Conference calls - Web Conferencing

Web Conferencing allows participants (either face to face or remotely) to

- instant message each other
- review the meeting agenda and documents
- follow presentations and raise their hands in order to make comments.

in a virtual meeting room over the Internet.

ICANN and the At-Large community uses Adobe Connect (<http://www.adobe.com/products/adobeconnect.html>) to do its web conferencing.

Using this tool effectively is important for anyone wanting to participate in At-Large Working Groups and your Regional At-Large Organisations' (RALO) conference calls.

The screenshot shows an Adobe Connect meeting interface. The main window displays a presentation slide titled "FY14 COMMUNITY REQUEST FORM" with the ICANN logo. The slide content includes:

All questions and completed forms should be posted to the Community Ad-Hoc Wiki. Please remember that the deadline for FY14 Budget consideration is March 8th 2013

At-Large mailing lists

- Email is the primary method for communicating formally with you (if you change your email, notify your RALO secretariat and/or At-Large Staff!).
- Used by At-Large members to disseminate and discuss At-Large activities.
- Separate mailing lists for (nearly) each At-Large activity (RALO, ALAC and At-Large Working Groups).
- You can read the public mailing list archives without subscribing.

All At-Large mailing lists can be found at

<https://community.icann.org/display/atlarge/At-Large+Mailing+Lists>

or <https://community.icann.org/x/LpvbAQ>

At-Large mailing lists

All At-Large mailing lists can be found at

(read only, sent by Staff ; all ALS representatives should be subscribed)
- ❖ ALAC: <http://atlarge-lists.icann.org/pipermail/alac/>
read only for ALSes ; ALAC and regional leaders can post

SKYPE chats

- informal, online chat (Instant Messaging) between At-Large members to discuss At-Large related issues.
- To join the At-Large Chat, email staff with your Skype ID)

At-Large WIKI

- The wiki is the primary home for At-Large to share information and collaborate with each other about At-Large activities.
- Also used as document repository to store PDFs of ALAC statements, presentations/slides, meeting transcripts and MP3 of meeting recordings

What is At-Large?

"At-Large" is the name for the community of individual Internet users who participate in the policy development ICANN. Currently, over 160 groups representing the views of individual Internet users are active throughout the world. You can learn more about the community and its activities on this website, as well as how to join and participate in building the future of the worldwide Domain Name System (DNS) and other unique identifiers that every single user of the Internet relies on every time they go online.

What are the RALOs?

The At-Large community is structured into five Regional At-Large Organizations (RALO), each composed by a number of regional At-Large Structures (ALS), Internet user organizations, and unaffiliated users. Each RALO has a regional Chair and a Secretariat. In addition to their annual General Assemblies, the regions hold monthly teleconferences to develop a regional view on current policy issues and to provide input for the At-Large policy process.

How to find content

The screenshot shows a web interface with a purple header. In the top right corner, there is a search bar with the text "Search" and a magnifying glass icon. A large grey arrow points down to this search bar. Below the search bar is a navigation menu with several dropdown menus: "At-Large", "Cross Comm", "GNSO", "ccNSO", "NomCom", "AoC", "Strategy Panels", "Open Comment", "Program", "Help", and "Sandbox". Below the navigation menu is a secondary bar with a hamburger menu icon, the text "onal At-Large Organization (APRALO)", a "Create" button, and icons for "Edit", "Share", and "Tools". The main content area displays the title "Asian, Australasian and Pacific Islands Regional At-Large Organization (APRALO)" in blue text. To the right of the title are three icons: a pencil, a left arrow, and a right arrow. Below the title is a small text line: "7 Added by Samantha.Oltman, last edited by Terri Agnew on Apr 10, 2014 (view change) Translate".
