Seun Ojedeji: (10:39) thats not what i am saying Alan

Seun Ojedeji: (10:40) and i tried to go through the issues but you said i should focus on the slide instead

Seun Ojedeji: (10:43) I think there is a connection between expectation on criteria as i expect that expectations would be part of the criteria.

Ariel Liang: (10:46) Rec 43 of ATLAS II: https://community.icann.org/display/als2/ATLAS+II+Recommendation+43

Alan Greenberg: (10:52) @Seun, yes, certainly. That is the rationale for the last point on the current slide.. BUt the discussion was not focussing on the specific expectations now.

Garth Bruen: (12:05) @Heidi, re: to Garth's, we have a At-Large Onboarding program that includes webinars, a help desk (via Skype) etc.... This all important but there are steps, frontend steps that are missing. My children often need baths and keeping them clean is critical. How do I get them in the bath when they don't want to go? It is GOOD for concerned Internet groups to get involved and they will generally see a benefit when they do, but HOW we get them in in the begining is the huge missing piece.

Glenn McKnight: (12:07) They need to join working groups based upon their specific interests

Ariel Liang: (12:16) We are now on agenda item No.5 - chat with Rinalia Abdul Raim

Garth Bruen: (12:23) Who is the "DCA" suing ICANN?

Glenn McKnight: (12:28) Surpising only 100 applicants for the job

Heidi Ullrich: (12:28) @Garth - DCA is dotconnectAfrica (see: http://dotconnectafrica.org/)

Glenn McKnight: (12:29) Had a conversation with last night he says is a still a tech nerd at heart

Garth Bruen: (12:29) Ok

Glenn McKnight: (12:29) He worked for CISCO before

Glenn McKnight: (12:31) I mentioned the work our ALS and IEEE is working with Community WIFI in Native Reserves and MESH TECH

Glenn McKnight: (12:32) Launching the new ISOC Special Interest Group on Enabling Technoogy

Garth Bruen: (12:32) Name is like "You're on"

Glenn McKnight: (12:33) @Garth good way to understanding

Ariel Liang: (12:48) We are now finished - thank you all for attending the ALAC Strategy and Working Session Part 1
