Attached please find a proposed update to the language circulated by Sidley. From our read of it, there were still significant issues within both the translation and the consolidation sections, even after we'd provided them with comment. Because there was overlapping of the terms consolidation and joinder, without definition, we've proposed to remove the concept of joinder because it seemed to be equal to consolidation. That allows for (1) intervention, or bringing a new party into an existing IRP, or (2) consolidation, the merging of two IRPs.

We have a couple of other language suggestions provided by ICDR, including removing the term "discovery" because it is too close to litigation and using instead "exchange of information"

The good news is that after a preliminary view of the language, other than some nits as modified, the ICDR did not have concern with the rules as proposed (based on a review of the 5/8 version).

Attached you will find:

The clean (with comments) version of our proposed text;

Sam

Dear all,

Attached please find our responses to your questions/comments on the IRP interim supplementary procedures (cumulative tracked changes in Word and redline, showing in blue highlight Sidley comments/responses). Note that the ICANN comment bubbles and Sidley responses are a bit screwy in the redline.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you would like to discuss.

Hi Holly and team,

Thanks for your work on this. We've connected with David on this and agree that many of the issues have been nicely addressed in here. We have annotated this with some comments (all noted with "SE NOTE" to begin) to identify where there could be more clarification, or we were not sure that all of the concerns were being addressed. You will also see some areas that I highlighted in green. I accepted a lot of the pre-existing track changes from those sections so that it was easier to focus on the text you presented and our inputs.

Please let us know if you'd like to discuss by phone prior to considering our comments.

Sam

Thank you, Rebecca, Holly and Sidley team.

To others – I am downtown in DC all day today for meetings so will be mostly out of touch but will endeavor to have read this by end of day.

Can we try to touch base tomorrow to discuss getting this to IRP group, scheduling next meeting of IOT and next steps etc.

Best wishes,
David
