Jackie Treiber: (07:01) Also, I'm a bit under the weather, so I will listen only and type.

Stephanie Perrin: (07:05) Sorry, we are a bit slammed, as you know, by 5 year planning and ePDP

Cathrin Bauer-Bulst: (07:09) Yes!

SUN Lili: (07:09) Yes

Jackie Treiber: (07:09) yes

Stephanie Perrin: (07:09) Sorry, I got a call right in the middle of that discussion....

Stephanie Perrin: (07:10) and yes I will provide some language

SUN Lili: (07:12) I'm fine with the deletion.

Carlton Samuels: (07:16) Howdy all. My apologies for the late join. In transit and had to get to a place to get wifi

Carlton Samuels: (07:18) @Alan: Fully agree with the changes, especially that pointing out the use of third parties for the benefit of all end users

Carlton Samuels: (07:21) @Susan: Go for max impact

Stephanie Perrin: (07:21) I don't really think we need to tell them how to manage. There may be some easy kills....in the low and medium

SUN Lili: (07:28) I support all the recommendations.

Carlton Samuels: (07:28) I support ALL recommendations!

Susan Kawaguchi: (07:28) I support all recommendations

Dmitry Belyavskiy: (07:28) I support all recommendations

Cathrin Bauer-Bulst: (07:29) So do I

SUN Lili: (07:30) for Recommendation 5.1, it should be high priority.

SUN Lili: (07:31) It's the ground of R4.1 and 4.2.

Dmitry Belyavskiy: (07:31) Agree with Lili

Stephanie Perrin: (07:31) I think this is in contradiction to what is going on in the EPDP. Dont agree with high priority

Carlton Samuels: (07:31) 5.1 is HP

Cathrin Bauer-Bulst: (07:32) I agree with Susan, data accuracy is an issue which is independent of individual purposes and access considerations

Stephanie Perrin: (07:32) The ARS system may have to go

Carlton Samuels: (07:33) Accuracy requirement would remian regardless of the EPDP outcome, no?

SUN Lili: (07:33) Yes, agree with Susan.

Stephanie Perrin: (07:34) It is my view that the requirement to respond within two weeks of address change is not in compliance with gDPR.

Carlton Samuels: (07:34) Accuracy is a fundamental principle of data management! We will have data, never mind the EPDP.

Jackie Treiber: (07:34) :)

Stephanie Perrin: (07:34) I thought the dogs were barking their agreement wiht me!

Carlton Samuels: (07:34) So I am for high Priority

Stephanie Perrin: (07:35) True

Jackie Treiber: (07:37) Thanks everyone

Cathrin Bauer-Bulst: (07:37) Thanks all, bye!

Carlton Samuels: (07:37) Thanks all. Bye all

Dmitry Belyavskiy: (07:38) Thank you all! Bye!
