NEW: Co-Chair Blog Post on the Public Comment Proceeding on the Draft Final Report of the GNSO New gTLD Subsequent Procedures Policy Development Process Working Group
From: Cheryl Langdon-Orr and Jeffrey Neuman, Co-Chairs

On behalf of the Generic Names Supporting Organization (GNSO) New Generic Top-Level Domain (gTLD) Subsequent Procedures Policy Development Process (PDP) Working Group, we are pleased to announce the publication of our draft Final Report and the start of the Public Comment proceeding.

The draft final report is a culmination of the multi-year working group deliberations, including the consideration of community input through numerous Public Comment proceedings, as well as a review of statements from the 2012 round of new gTLDs and earlier working group reports. It presents draft final recommendations and implementation guidance on topics within the charter of the working group. Because some of the recommendations have been substantively updated since the last Public Comment proceeding, the draft final report is being published for an additional Public Comment opportunity. These updates are a result of taking into consideration the comprehensive Public Comment submissions we received, as well as a great deal of compromises that have been made by members of the working group to address concerns with the initial recommendations.
