Zoom Chat Transcript
SSR2 Leadership – 24 February 2020

11:29:45   From laurin : things moved slightly.

11:29:52   From laurin : can listen in but not speak.

11:29:59   From laurin : if need be I'll chat.

11:30:09   From Heather Flanagan : Are you in a session somewhere? I hear a lecture

11:30:31   From laurin : yep conference. sorry didn't mute.

11:31:51   From Jennifer Bryce to Brenda Brewer (Privately) : There is a guy here messing with my wifi so I'm on my phone in case it drops

11:33:43   From laurin : how long are the extensions?

11:33:53   From laurin : like a week, ... ?

11:35:16   From laurin : I don't see an issue with a week or so considering cancellation. (assuming F2F being cancelled)

11:38:12   From laurin : agree on doodle. need F2F. have to see when people can come.

11:38:21   From laurin : + where!

11:40:45   From laurin : April plus May?

11:44:35   From laurin : we need to rewrite a lot of text. namely recommendations! (or drop smart idea)

11:45:01   From laurin : we currently aren't fulfilling our own standards.

11:45:59   From laurin : as much as we might dislike this, doubt we can avoid.

11:47:19   From laurin : I would leave in for now.

11:47:46   From laurin : let people choose. for me it'll be easier, probably and I'm East coast. we don't know.

11:50:13   From laurin : I read through. agree with a lot of KC's points.

11:50:24   From laurin : didn't comment. felt messy enough. ;)

11:51:35   From laurin : agree with Eric, it might make more sense to combine!

11:52:49   From laurin : alternative approach: cancel calls, get people to work through everything, then deal with the more complicated stuff. references can be done now.

11:55:51   From Heather Flanagan : The calls are serving as the only driver to get things done. If we cancel the calls, people will just ignore this until they have to for the f2f.

11:57:23   From Heather Flanagan : +1 to Eric's suggestion!

11:59:21   From laurin : if anyone asks, let's give a week.

12:01:26   From laurin : unlikely to be able to join remote meeting.
