

Currently a NOMCOM member, the NOMCOM has become a much more complicated process that needs a two year cycle to be fully productive. The first year is more of a learning experience and the second year involves more leadership taking on specific committee roles and functions. I think it's critical that anyone seeking this position it should be deemed a two year commitment. I am willing to stand for an additional year.