Russian-language ICANN 76 regional readout / Региональный вебинар по итогам конференции ICANN 76 на русском языке

On 19th April 2023 Mikhail Anisimov, GSE Sr. Manager Eastern Europe & Central Asia (ICANN), organized an ICANN76 Readout in Russian with participation of ICANN community members, who represent different SO/AC within ICANN.

That is interesting case that the Russian-speaking ICANN community audience is not ICANN European region only, but Asia-Pacific ICANN region too (Armenia, Goergia) as well as interested parties who in the past were consuls, participants in different working groups, and now there are active observers and participants in various ICANN discussions.

Everyone gave their own report on ICANN 76 technical sessions, meetings of the GAC, GNSO, ccNSO. Maria Kolesnikova (individual member of EURALO) spoke about the celebration of UA Day. Natalia Filina, Secretary of EURALO, spoke about the focus of At-Large interests and ICANN 76 ALAC agenda.

EURALO Individuals` Association

EURALO Individuals` Association

<https://individualusers.org/about/>

Ricardo Holmquist has been elected Chair of the Association. He will be the official representative of the Association and the voting member in EURALO, replacing Roberto Gaetano. Welcoming words Ricardo Holmquist, new Chair of EURALO Individuals` Association:

“About the Individual Members Association

First, I would like to thank Roberto Gaetano for his great job in the previous Chairmanship of the association.

For the near future of the Association my hope is to renew the Bylaws of it. There are two reasons for that, the most important, in recent years ALAC conducted an Individual Users Working Party, in order to set a base of rules that every RALO’s Individual Users Association should use, and our association must now try to adapt to this basic set of rules. First step was to establish a Board working group to begin this task. Individual users should hear soon about these proposed changes. Second reason is to review them, to adapt them to the actual size of the association.

The second main task of the association is to keep growing, through Outreach and Engagement, being them at local level, European level, ICANN fellowships or NextGen.

As the umbrella of EURALO for the individual users we have a challenging task ahead, attracting new members, eager to work in Policy and Operations/Budget comments, with the upcoming new round, and the pressure for new script recognition to achieve Universal Acceptance, the DNS system will be stressed more than ever. Thus, not counting new European Rules affecting privacy over the net ...”.

ICANN: Governance & Authority

By Pari Esfandiari

President at Global TechnoPolitics Forum

April 10, 2023 | Views: 6,735 | Comments: 1

Almost 25 years after the Internet was privatized by the U.S. government and seven years after IANA control was transferred to ICANN, Pari Esfandiari examines ICANN's authority to govern. Such a question is not new; ICANN has faced the question of legitimacy from its inception. Concerns were over its performance of public functions and exercise of public powers. "With the increasing importance of the Internet as a critical system, arguments questioning ICANN's political authority for the governance of a transnational and public service have found new audiences and gained momentum. So far, ICANN avoided politics and justified its position by using functionalist arguments to maintain that its work is technical, not political, its mission is to ensure the global stability of the internet, and it performs coordinating and allocating functions that are administrative in nature. However, within the current volatile geopolitical context, the functionalist argument may no longer be enough." Esfandiari offers a fresh look and expands the argument beyond the functionalist debate, showing that ICANN legitimacy could withstand the legalist examination as well. She concludes by pointing out that ICANN's "multistakeholder model may not be perfect, but it is a successful experiment, and it is evolving, offering us some glimpses of how global governance could look in the future. As such, it is worth all our attention and efforts."

The 13th Russian Internet Governance Forum was held in Moscow on 6-7 April, 2023.

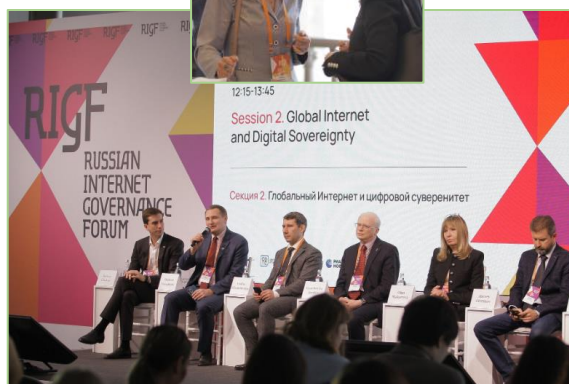

There were 2 busy days and an interesting agenda.

The speakers and participants of RIGF 2023 also discussed the problems of cybersecurity and protection of critical infrastructure, countering the spread of destructive content, all aspects and types of Internet fragmentation, scientific developments, innovations and implemented digital projects in various industries and fields of application (medicine, education, public administration, urban infrastructure), the formation of media culture and information culture of the Internet space for children and young people. RIGF program was completed by the session "Digital Transformation: the voice of youth" and covered the results of the IGF 2022 youth track, the results of the RIGF special course for Youth, opportunities for Youth engagement in the IG global world (ITU, NetMission, IGF, ICANN),
