EURALO news
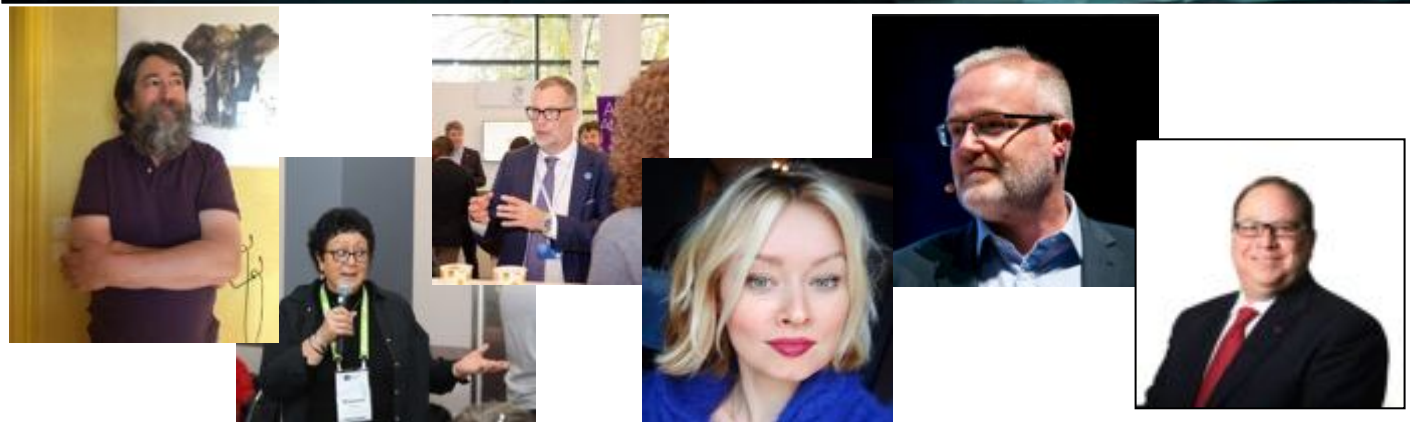

Pari Esfandiari new EURALO ALAC member selected by NomCom

Pari Esfandiari is the president and Co-Founder of the Global TechnoPolitics Forum, with a mission to shape the public debate and facilitate global coordination at the intersection of technology and geopolitics. She serves as Nonresident Senior Fellow at the Atlantic Council's GeoTech Center. Her extensive international background includes leadership, advisory, and investment positions with organizations and corporations in China, Europe, the Middle East, and the United States. She is an innovative entrepreneur, sustainability and communications executive, and Internet pioneer and has worked across diverse industries ranging from FinTech and e-commerce to sustainability and smart cities. Her social enterprise was showcased by UNESCO and supported by the Google Foundation. Her article was nominated for the prestigious National Magazine Award. She has a doctorate from Oxford Brookes University in sustainable business and is an avid environmentalist.

"I am honored to serve at the At-Large Advisory Committee (ALAC) at ICANN since November 2020. I knew of ICANN almost from its beginnings. Over the years, I have eagerly followed its evolution to this complex, scattered, multi-stakeholder, bottom-up organization. It really could serve as a model for our increasingly flat globalized world.

As a technology entrepreneur, I have encountered many issues that are directly related to ICANN's assignment of name and numbers and I am delighted with the opportunity to offer that perspective. As a policy advisor, I am well aware of digital technology's impact on the fabric of our society, our democratic values, as well as on global geopolitics. There are huge differences in the economy, the ideological visions of the internet, and also fundamental cultural values that divide countries and influence their policies. The Regional At-Large Organization (RALO) structure within ICANN, offers the opportunity to understand these differences. Europe has shown leadership in its legislative approach, which makes me particularly proud to be part of EUROLA that represents this region. Internet governance is a complex subject where issues overlap, cut across policy areas, and even conflict. My latest publication Data: Governance and Geopolitics (Dec. 2020) discuss these issues in detail".

"Beyond Budapest: The UN Cybercrime Treaty and DNS Abuse"

This session looked into the progress and perspectives of the proposed UN cybercrime treaty and explores how it might impact ICANN's mission and trying answers to these questions: How does DNS Abuse fit in with existing cybercrime frameworks, both: national and international? Can cybercrime laws be useful for fighting DNS Abuse? What are the opportunities for having the ICANN voice heard in international cybercrime discussions? Do we have opportunities for enhanced ICANN community input into this and similar processes that directly impact the effectiveness of our DNS Abuse mechanisms?

EURALO Outreach Strategic plan for Fiscal Year 21

Framework

Euralo must be present in each and every country of our region and engage new people or new groups into the ICANN policy making process to strengthen the voice of Internet individual end-user.

The main goal is spreading a clear, interesting and useful information about Internet, ICANN activities, At-Large, ALAC and EURALO's role in the European regions and beyond, maintaining the current positive image, raising awareness and, as a result, growing the number and the quality active participation of European Internet individual end-user in the ICANN policy development.

ALAC MEETINGS @ICANN67
Cybersecurity and Geopolitics in a Multistakeholder Environment

In addition, a cross-community roundtable on the topic of "One World. One Internet?' Cybersecurity and Geopolitics in a Multistakeholder Environment," was led by Joanna Kulesza, ALAC Vice Chair for Capacity Building. During a time where the risk of the fragmentation of the Internet is increasing, states are taking more effective measures to ensure their jurisdiction over what they consider to be their part of cyberspace. It is in this context that ICANN's global stewardship role has grown more significant than ever. This session explored how to best justify ICANN policies in the face of global disruptive trends and to identify and present to the ICANN community a coherent, comprehensive narrative on why "One World. One Internet." remains a valid narrative, and how to best communicate it to the different stakeholders outside ICANN.

Important NEWS/Appointments
CENTR

On February 12-13, 2020, the 63rd General Assembly of the Council of European national top-level domain registries (c) was held in the Slovenian capital of Ljubljana, which brought together more than 70 representatives of the national domain registries (members of CENTR). Also during the Assembly were introduced the new Vice President of ICANN in Europe, Chris Mondini. He visited the CENTR meeting to meet representatives of European national registries and talk about ICANN's plans in the European region.

EURALO GA2019, Berlin

Thank you, Merci, Gracias, спасибо

The next ICANN meeting taking place in Europe will be ICANN71 in The Hague, on 14-17 June 2021.

The evolving policy of ICANN and Global Stakeholder Engagement (GSE) department is that RALO General Assemblies should take place, at least for this cycle, preferably outside of an ICANN meeting.

As a result, the time/date identified for a Funded F2F EURALO General Assembly will be during EuroDIG21 in Trieste, Italy – 28-30 June 2021

Finally the Chair and Secretariat would like to thank the responsiveness of the Board and all of their help in making fast turnaround decisions. This body of 5 members plus ex-officio, has been solicited regularly.

And would like to warmly thanks Olivier Crépin-Leblond for his support to the new team.
