

Dear Community members,

It is with great honor that I accept the nomination for the position of Communications Chair. I'm humbled and see this as a call to service for a community we all believe in within the ICANN Org.

Kindly find my candidate's response to my nomination below:

Name: Adisa Bolutife

Affiliation: Digital Grassroots

Position applied for: Communications Committee Chair

Why you are running for the position?:

NPOC's work within the ICANN community holds an important role in having a very strong communication mechanism within which other stakeholders within the community relate to the work and interest of Not-for-Profit, Civil Society and Academics within the constituency. It is therefore very pertinent to connect with these other stakeholders and varied interests within the community to understand the work that NPOC does with the view of serving as a more vocal voice of reasoning and logic during engagements with other multi-stakeholders.

I strongly believe in working with the leadership of the NPOC and all members' interests represented while building a bottom-up approach consensus to DNS Policy and realizing the ICANN's multistakeholder PDP actionable outcomes.

I do hope to bring in a diverse and proactive approach to service in the role I'm putting myself forward for.

I am also active within regional affiliations such as ISOC, AFRALO and the IGF, both nationally, regionally and globally.

My participation in different fora within the internet space has seen his contribution on internet governance policy issues ranging from data privacy, Copyright and Intellectual Property and copyright, Cyber Security, sustainable access, digital rights, media literacy, and development & capacity and other internet related issues which I believe is consistent with some of the concerns the NPOC has within the DNS industry.

In my professional experience from being an Electronics engineer, Program Manager, Network Administrator, Non-profit leader and technology trainer, I believe it puts me in a value-added position to what the Not-for-Profit Operational Concerns Constituency (NPOC) stands for in bringing my industry experience to bear from a technical perspective to serve in the role of communication's chair.

I look forward to serving the NPOC community in this role.
