    From RSSAC026:
18:06:19 From Paul Hoffman - ICANN Org to Everyone:
    publish, serve
    The words publish and serve have very different meanings that are often conflated.
Publishing the root zone is the activity performed by the root zone maintainer when preparing a new version of the root zone and entering it into the root zone distribution system. Serving the root zone is the activity performed by the root server system using the acquired information.
