Too high level of detail, we are back into over engineering rather than making a recommendation on how to approach incident reporting.

18:24:38 From Brad Verd to Everyone:

Add some language that explains that using the material impact to the RSS lead us down a path with little or nothing being reported and we wanted the reporting process to be available for all the RSOs to report when they saw fit. So we have introduced this graphic that we would recommend the RSOs adopt something similar as they evaluate their incidents.
