WSIS+20

From the IGLC Work Plan:

WSIS+20

- IGLC will explore ways to raise awareness among ccTLDs about the WSIS+20 review, which could consist of the creation of a FAQ or similar kind of document on the topic. To that end, it should reach out to the government engagement team at ICANN.

A moment of change is coming in the internet governance system! In 2025, there will be a UN-led review of the World Summit on the Information Society (WSIS), 20 years after the original WSIS. Why is this important for ccTLDs?

Part 1: setting the scene. What is WSIS+20 and why is it important?

IGLC Working Session

Saturday, 21 October 2023

- 14:30-15:30 UTC (16:30-17:30 local)

ICANN has five geographical regions. The members of the ccNSO Internet Governance Liaison Committee (IGLC) at regular intervals reflect on what the hot internet governance topics are for each of the five regions. Are there overlaps? Major differences?

Reminder IGLC Action Plan

Taking into consideration the various steps that led to the development of the IGLC workplan, IGLC will address the 4 topics in the following order:

1. WSIS+20

IGLC will explore ways to raise awareness among ccTLDs about the WSIS+20 review, which could consist of the creation of a FAQ or similar kind of document on the topic. To that end, it should reach out to the government engagement team at ICANN.

2. Internet Fragmentation

Regarding the topic of Internet fragmentation, IGLC will organise sessions, either at ICANN public meetings or intersessionally. In doing so, IGLC will closely collaborate with other relevant stakeholders and guest speakers, including the ICANN OCTO Team and the ICANN Government Engagement Team.

3. Capacity Building on IG-related matters

In terms of capacity building on IG-related matters, the IGLC will cooperate with SOPC, regarding ccTLD input into ICANN planning & budget, and organise sessions, potentially with guest speakers.

4. Cyber Security

IGLC should first and foremost evaluate the input from the ICANN76 session, to determine potential next steps. IGLC should also further explore what is meant by Cyber Security, and how it fits within the ccNSO/IGLC mission. To that end, it should reach out to other parts of ICANN (SSAC, TLD-OPS).

Only as a next step, and time and resources permitting, the IGLC could explore to better understand the landscape, via ccTLD surveys and the creation of a security index.
