APPLICANT
Support

The 2012 Round Applicant Support Program 4/6

o Support Applicant Review Panel (SARP)

- o Independent panel that will evaluate applicant and score the three criteria sets
- o Comprised 5 individuals with varying backgrounds, selected by ICANN through a public call for EOI
- o SARP may rely on applicant's string application, public comments and independent research, if desired
- o In scoring the three criteria sets, also rank applicants [final funding decisions to ensure those who receive fee reduction will tend to most amplify benefit]
- o "Qualified and awarded fee reduction" – remainder of US$185k fee waived
- o "Qualified but not awarded a fee reduction" – can proceed with paying balance US$138k, or withdraw for US$42k refund
- o "Disqualified" – application cannot proceed, US$42k refunded unless SARP reasonably believes there was willful gaming

The 2012 Round Applicant Support Program 6/6

o Outcome & Reflection

- o Too little, too late on communications – only 3 applicants
- o Evaluation criteria too daunting – focus on barrier to gaming outweighed goal – only 1 applicant ultimately succeeded
- o Even with Pro-bono services, facilitation would have helped

Well, that was about the 2012 Round, what about the Next Round?

Let's have a look,
shall we?

What are Subsequent Procedures (“SubPro”)?

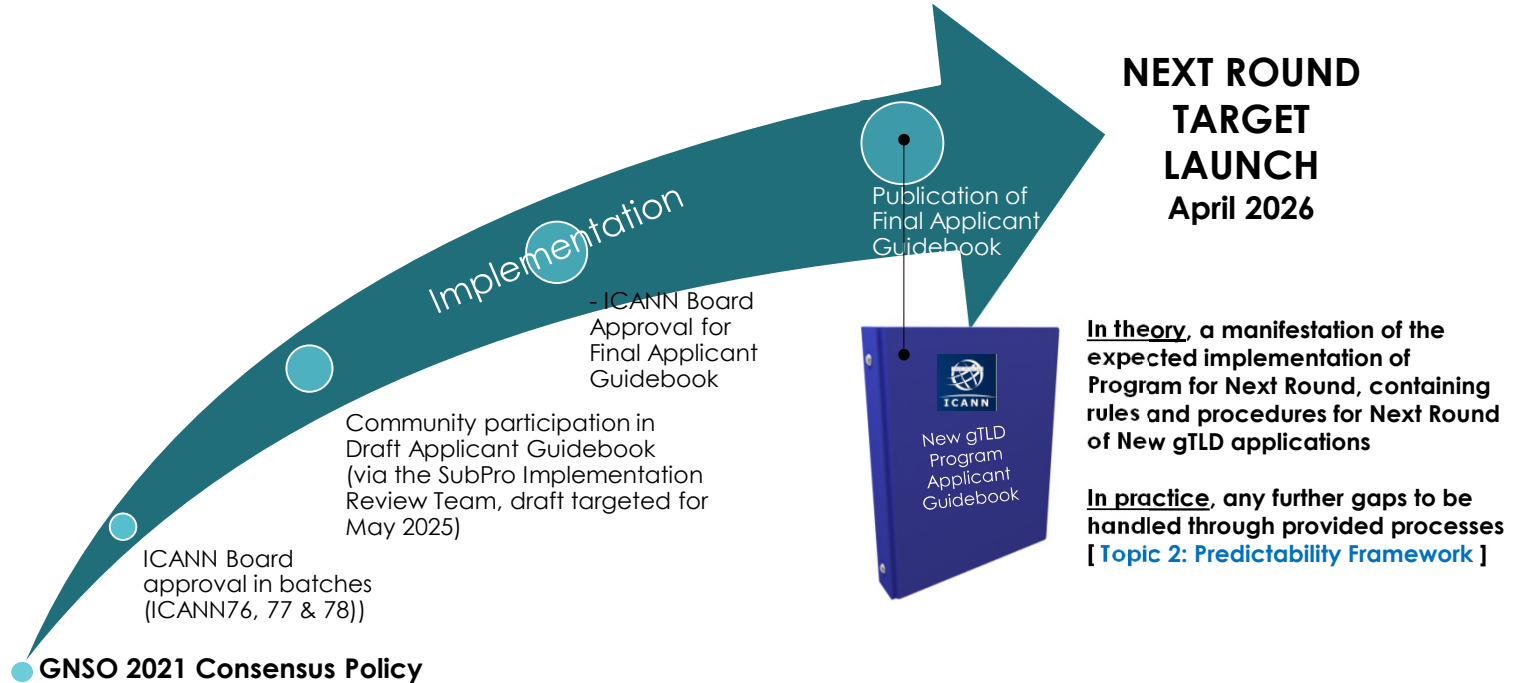

“New generic Top-Level Domain Program Subsequent Procedures”

- Rules & procedures governing next round of New gTLD applications
 - Determine what string can be applied for, who can apply, how to apply, what fees are payable/refundable, terms & conditions, additional requirements for certain types of TLDs etc
 - An update which ‘attempts at’ addressing issues, policy goal achievement deficiencies, lacunae, unintended consequences, etc, identified from the 2012 Round
 - Captured predominantly within an Applicant Guidebook (AGB)
- DO NOT apply to legacy TLDs or delegated New gTLDs, or those still unresolved from the 2012 Round, or ccTLDs
