Domain Abuse Roundtable
07 Mar 2022 1700 UTC

"The respective efforts of five collaborating organizations to reduce the domain abuse problem and the challenges of addressing it, to include a recent case study using new technology."

Leslie Daigle, Chief Technology Officer & Internet Integrity Program Director,
Global Cyber Alliance

Leslie Daigle is the CTO and Internet Integrity Program Director at the Global Cyber Alliance. She has been working at the intersection of Internet technology, business/economics and policy to drive effective change for more than twenty years.

Graeme Bunton, Executive Director, DNS Abuse Institute

Graeme Bunton is the Director of the DNS Abuse Institute, an initiative dedicated to developing collaborative and innovative methods of reducing DNS abuse. Graeme has over 11 years of DNS policy experience. Prior to heading the DNS Abuse Institute, he was the Head of Policy for Tucows and served as Chair of the Registrar Stakeholder Group for four years. Graeme was one of the driving forces behind the 'Framework to Address Abuse', a new set of guidelines and principles for addressing online harms, which was adopted by more than 50 registries and registrars. He helped found the Citizen Lab at the University of Toronto, and currently serves as Board Chair of the Internet Infrastructure Coalition.

Drew Bagley, Director of Operations, Secure Domain Foundation
Vice President and Counsel for Privacy and Cyber Policy, CrowdStrike

Drew Bagley, CIPP/E, is CrowdStrike's Vice President and Counsel for Privacy and Cyber Policy, responsible for leading CrowdStrike's data protection initiatives, privacy strategy and global policy engagement. He serves on the Europol Advisory Group on Internet Security, the U.S. Department of State's International Digital Economy and Telecommunication Advisory Committee, and the DNS Abuse Institute's Advisory Council. For the better part of a decade, Drew has played an active role leading DNS anti-abuse efforts through the Secure Domain Foundation. Recently, Drew helped lead the ICANN Competition, Consumer Choice, and Consumer Trust Review Team, which assessed the expansion of the Internet's Domain Name System. Prior to joining CrowdStrike, Drew served in the Office of the General Counsel at the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He is a member of the New York State Bar and a former Alexander von Humboldt German Chancellor Fellow.

Daneille Deibler, Director of Threat Intel, Cat Herder, Quad9
Danielle Deibler is the Director of Threat Intelligence for Quad9. She is also the CEO and co-founder of MarvelousAI an early stage company combatting misinformation in the media ecosystem. Deibler has 28 years in Internet security, software development, and machine learning and AI technology.

Luigi Lenguito, Co-Founder, CEO, Bfore.AI
Passionate about IT infrastructure and speed, Luigi is co-founder of Bfore.Ai - the first truly predictive threat intelligence. Our technology informs about future threat vectors, and help prevent a multitude of cyber attacks. PreCrime® suite of services, helps protect networks against emerging threats , prevent & pre-empt stakeholder attacks through impersonation. Learn more at https://bfore.ai or connect with linkedin.com/in/llenguito