About At-Large and RALOs

At-Large Community
- Independent organizations – ALSes
- Individual Members

Regional At-Large Organizations (RALO)
- There are 5 geographic regions with recognized organizations

Africa AFRALO	Asia/Pacific APRALO	Europe EURALO	Latin America & Caribbean LACRALO	North America NARALO

- MOUs with ICANN
- Made up of ALSes and Individual Members in their Geographic Region

About RALOs - ALSes

ALSes accredited by ALAC, to ensure and promote the regional users participation in the policy development processes of ICANN
  ◦ All interested civil society organizations are invited to apply and join

The RALOs connect civil society organizations representing the interests of the Internet's individual end users in each region

The RALOs help to get our voices and opinions heard within ICANN's bottom-up, consensus-based multi-stakeholder process of global Internet development
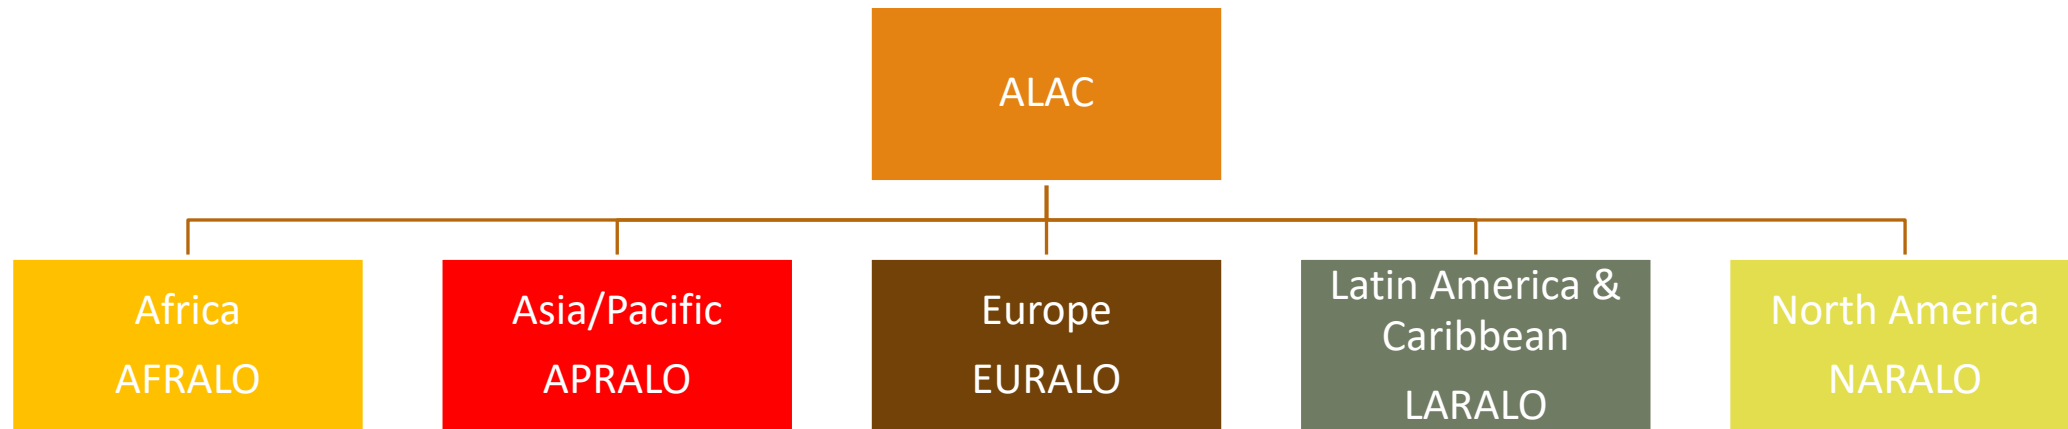

About RALO – Individual Members

◦ An individual Internet user may join the At-Large community independently without being a member of an ALS
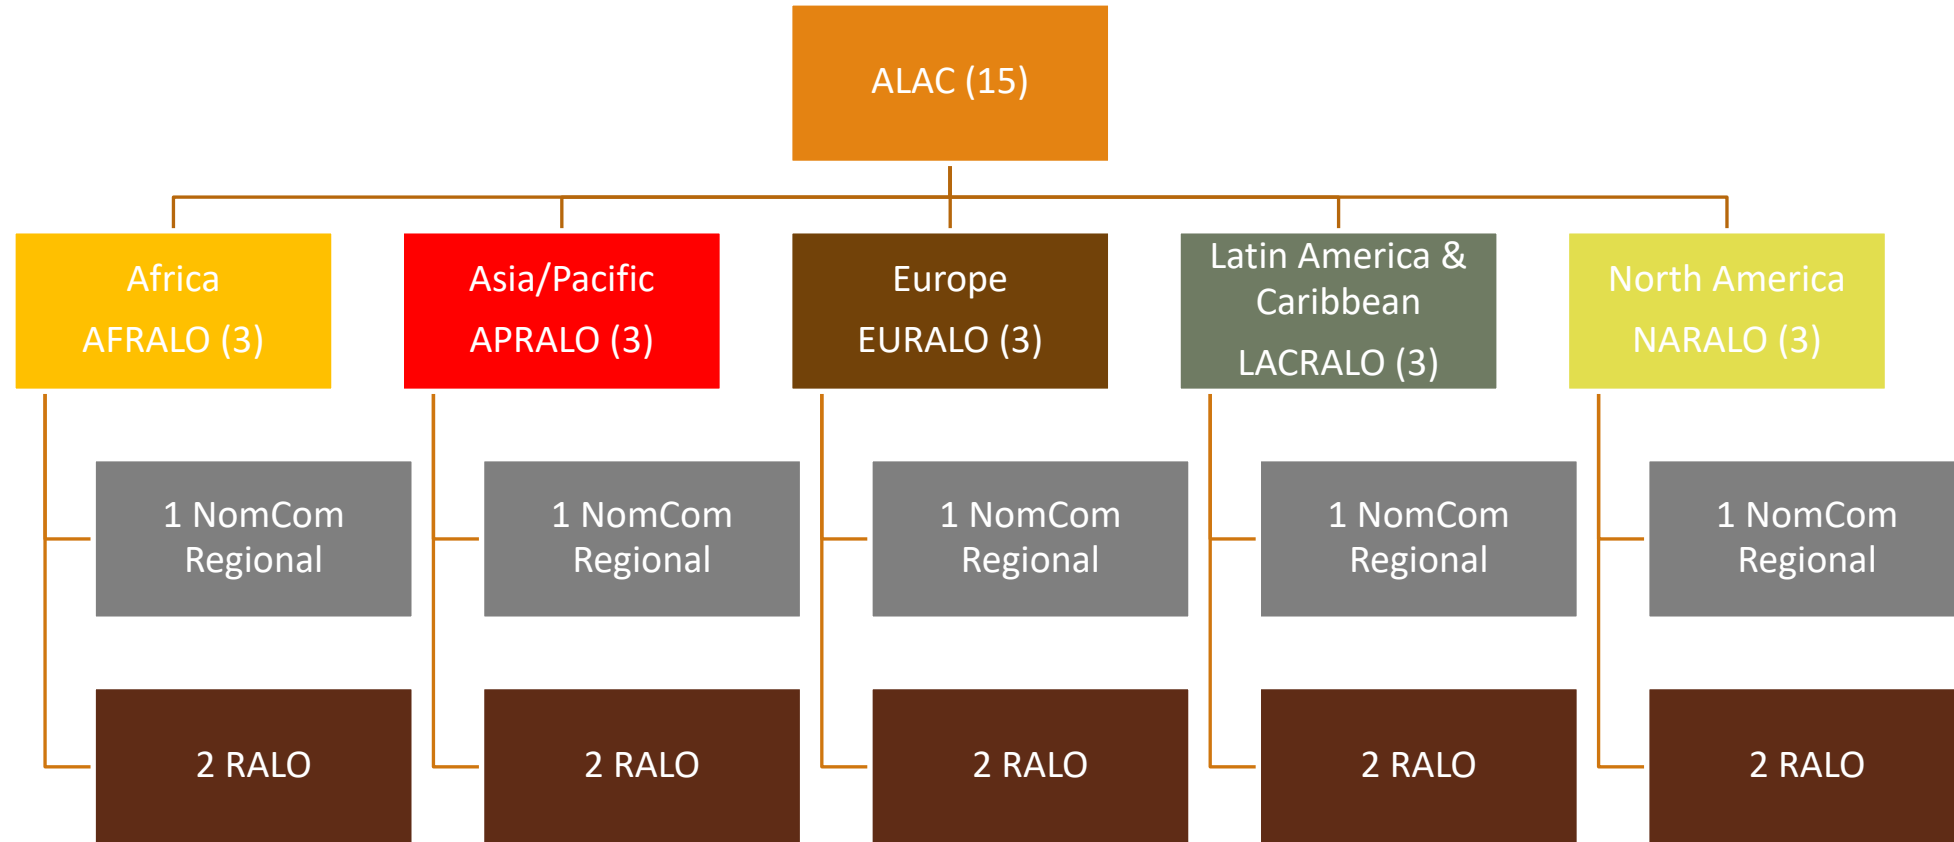

◦ Unaffiliated member - Observers

About At-Large and ALAC

How is ALAC different from the At-Large Community
- ◦ ALAC is a small subset (15 members) of the At-Large Community (190) Internet End Users that it represents
