Conference calls - Web Conferencing

Web Conferencing allows participants (either face to face or remotely) to

- instant message each other
- review the meeting agenda and documents
- follow presentations and raise their hands in order to make comments.

in a virtual meeting room over the Internet.

ICANN and the At-Large community uses Adobe Connect (<http://www.adobe.com/products/adobeconnect.html>) to do its web conferencing.

Using this tool effectively is important for anyone wanting to participate in At-Large Working Groups and your Regional At-Large Organisations' (RALO) conference calls.

The screenshot displays the Adobe Connect interface for a meeting titled "FY14 Budget APRALO.pdf". The interface is divided into several sections:

- Attendees (11): A list of participants including Heidi Ulrich, Alan Suco, David Kasondoy, Roberto, Wolf Ludwig, YJ Park, and Yulpa Morente.
- Central Presentation Area: Displays a document titled "FY14 COMMUNITY REQUEST FORM". The form includes sections for "REQUEST INFORMATION" (Title of Proposed Activity, Community Requester Name, Chair, ICANN Staff Community Liaison) and "REQUEST DESCRIPTION".
- Agenda: Lists the meeting agenda for Wednesday 20 March 2013 at 1400 UTC, including a Welcome and Objective of the Meeting, a Not Call, a Review of FY14 Budget Requests, and a Discussion.
- Chat Window: Shows a list of chat messages from participants, including a message from David Kasondoy stating "Hi all, sorry to be late" and a message from YJ Park stating "The deadline is extended by March 25".

At-Large mailing lists

- Email is the primary method for communicating formally with you (if you change your email, notify your RALO secretariat and/or At-Large Staff!).
- Used by At-Large members to disseminate and discuss At-Large activities.
- Separate mailing lists for (nearly) each At-Large activity (RALO, ALAC and At-Large Working Groups).
- You can read the public mailing list archives without subscribing.

What is At-Large?

"At-Large" is the name for the community of individual Internet users who participate in the policy development at ICANN. Currently, over 160 groups representing the views of individual Internet users are active throughout the world. You can learn more about the community and its activities on this website, as well as how to join and participate in building the future of the worldwide Domain Name System (DNS) and other unique identifiers that every single user of the Internet relies on every time they go online.

What are the RALOs?

The At-Large community is structured into five Regional At-Large Organizations (RALO), each composed by a number of regional At-Large Structures (ALS), Internet user organizations, and unaffiliated users. Each RALO has a regional Chair and a Secretariat. In addition to their annual General Assemblies, the regions hold monthly teleconferences to develop a regional view on current policy issues and to provide input for the At-Large policy process.

Please click on the links below to visit the homepage of your At-Large region.

How to find content
