- Name: Zaher Qassrawi (zqasrawi@yahoo.com)
- Affiliation and current position:
Board Member of ISOC Palestine and Information Security Specialist at Palestine Medical Council (PMC)
- Relevant qualifications:
I am an information security specialist and a board member of ISOC-Palestine Chapter. My B.Sc. major is in Electrical Engineering (minor in communication systems & computer networks), I also have M.Sc. in Scientific Computing from Birzeit University, Palestine.
I hold several certificates and developmental training in computer networks and security, such as Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP), Cisco Certified Network Associate (CCNA) and Microsoft Certified Systems Engineer (MCSE).
I have attended several courses in Network Security, such as “Managing an Academic Network Infrastructure” course, in The Donald Smiths Centre for Information Technology (CIT), University of Groningen, Netherlands and I joined “Blockchain Technologies & Internet Governance Workshop” that was organized by ISOC Middle East Bureau in Amman, Jordan.
In the past years, I have worked as an information security consultant and information technology manager in different ISPs and private sector organizations. I attended ICANN 74.
As an information security specialist, I am interested in security over the internet (DNSSEC), Internet Governance, and Cloud Security.
- Motivation for membership in the RSSAC Caucus:
It will be a rewarding chance to be a member of RSSAC and to be a part of discussions of an updated issue related to my interest in network security, especially DNSSEC. Also, It will be a great opportunity to meet experts who provide new and creative ideas for the implementation and development of new tools that deal with related risks from their respective roles.
- Indication of availability:
Two days a week
- Formal roles (if any) and interests in the work of RSSAC:
