

Rafik Dammak: hi all

Bruna Santos: Hello all!

Bruna Santos: I am having some connection problems, connection is quite slow

Robin Gross: I do not seem to have audio

Robin Gross: Can I be given audio?

Maryam Bakoshi: Hi all the connection dropped

Maryam Bakoshi: connecting back in Rafik Dammak: yes we can!

Maryam Bakoshi: Hi Robin

Maryam Bakoshi: I can dial you in

Rafik Dammak: yes

Flavio Garces: hi all !

Adam Peake: Hi everyone. Hope you don't mind me joining. Important topic, interested to learn and hear your opinions

Robin Gross: Discussion Agenda1. Review of Key Issues: a. Freedom of Expression b. Community c. Objections d. String Similarity e. Global Public Interest f. So-called Closed Generics2. Plan for NCSG Public Comment

Robin Gross: I sent it via email also, since the formatting is rather funky in the chat.

Rafik Dammak: sorry guys for the time, it is already in several parts o APAC :)

Rafik Dammak: maybe a first question, since the report is just few pages less than the applicant guidebook itself :) which parts to focus on for reading?

Bruna Santos: Yes, I was writing the same question, Rafik

Elsa Saade: if we were to kind of summarize other stakeholders' takes on the initial report, would there be something to keep in mind for our comment drafting?

Elsa Saade: preemptively

Rafik Dammak: Thanks Robin

Rafik Dammak: @Elsa I dont think we should worry about that, better to work on our positions

Elsa Saade: i think this particular topic has a lot of interests at stake, that's why i was asking. but definitely agree that we need to focus on our content and stand at this point

Elsa Saade: thanks Rafik

Rafik Dammak: AGB stands for applicant guidebook

Rafik Dammak: @all please feel free to put your questions in chat too

Rafik Dammak: thanks

Elsa Saade: with this kind of heavy info?

Elsa Saade: there's sooooo much to read about for this comment

Elsa Saade: thanks a lot robin for doing this. it helps a lot.

ron wickersham: it seems to me that there is an overlap on closed generics and community, so a small community should be allowed to go forward with a domain without objections that they represent the "larger community" or public interest.

Rafik Dammak: I have problems to hear Elsa speaking ron wickersham: also can't hear Elsa

Cheryl Langdon-Orr: nothing to me either

Rafik Dammak: @elsa can you write your comment?

Rafik Dammak: I guess those in AC (not in phone bridge) couldnt hear

Cheryl Langdon-Orr: I suspect s Rafik

Elsa Saade: sure! i mentioned that Bruna Akinremi and I are in the process of reading the material and meeting soon in the next couple of weeks

Cheryl Langdon-Orr: Thx Elsa

Elsa Saade: we'll definitely be taking robin's points into consideration while writing

Elsa Saade: but if anyone else would like to add points let us know

Elsa Saade: you're also welcome to join the team

Cheryl Langdon-Orr: Bye, Thanks Robin

Elsa Saade: thanks robin!

Rafik Dammak: thanks all for joining, we will continue the discussion in the malinling list

Flavio Garces: thanks Robin and all

Adam Peake: thank you

Maryam Bakoshi 2: Thank you all for attending the call. Good bye
