| 1. Reconsider / Reject ICANN Budget or Strategy / Operating Plans | • Powers committed to Board fiduciary responsibility
• Bylaws require community consultation
• Designator can trigger enforceable consultation right and SOs/ACs can reject Board’s plan up to two times
• Arbitration available for violations of Bylaws, but discretion ultimately rests with Board; likely not binding for these powers
• Designator can initiate process to remove individual directors or recall the entire Board. | • Powers committed to Board fiduciary responsibility, subject to Member’s reserved powers
• Bylaws require community consultation
• Member given reserved power to reject Board’s plan up to two times
• Binding arbitration available for violations of Bylaws
• Sole Member can remove individual directors or recall the entire Board. |
| 2. Approve Changes to ICANN “Fundamental” Bylaws and Articles of Incorporation | • Sole Designator given right to approve proposed Fundamental Bylaws amendments.
• Sole Designator decides whether to act via community voting mechanism, with specified participation level and voting threshold for action.
• Designator could invoke arbitration process and ultimately bring court action but discretion ultimately rests with Board; likely not binding for these powers
• Ultimate Community power is Board recall | • Sole Member reserves right to approve proposed Fundamental Bylaws amendments.
• Sole Member decides whether to act via community voting mechanism, with specified participation level and voting threshold for action.
• Sole Member could invoke binding arbitration process and ultimately bring court action
• Ultimate Community power is Board recall |
| 3. Reconsider / Reject Changes to ICANN “Standard Bylaws” | • Sole Designator given right to veto proposed Standard Bylaws amendments.
• Sole Designator decides whether to act via community voting mechanism, with specified participation level and voting threshold for action.
• Designator could invoke binding arbitration process and ultimately bring court action
• Ultimate Community power is Board recall | • Sole Member reserves right to veto proposed Standard Bylaws amendments.
• Sole Member decides whether to act via community voting mechanism, with specified participation level and voting threshold for action.
• Sole Member could invoke binding arbitration and ultimately bring court action
• Ultimate Community power is Board recall
• Sole Member would have statutory right under California law to initiate or adopt bylaws amendments on its own, but the exercise of this right could be practically curtailed through internal Sole Member mechanisms. |

1 Note as a general matter that our legal analysis is provided on a level in keeping with the question posed. Our legal analysis is tailored to the context in which the particular question arises. It is provided to inform and help facilitate your consideration of the governance accountability models under discussion and should not be relied upon by any other persons or groups for any other purpose. Unless otherwise stated, our legal analysis is based on California law and in particular the laws governing California nonprofit public benefit corporations (California Corporations Code, Title 1, Division 2). In our effort to respond in a limited time frame, we may not have completely identified, researched and addressed all potential implications and nuances involved.

<td>6. Mechanism for binding IRP where a panel decision is enforceable in any court recognizing international arbitration results</td>
<td>Each SO/AC or the sole Designator can invoke binding arbitration. Sole Designator would have clear rights to enforce results in California courts. Awards enforceable in other international courts recognizing international arbitration results.</td>

<td>7. Reconsider / Reject Board Decisions Relating to Reviews of the IANA Functions, Including Ability to Trigger a Separation of PTI (or, IANA Separation Enforceability)</td>
<td>Sole Designator given right to trigger Board consultation up to specified number of times, with Bylaw restrictions. Sole Designator has standing to direct enforce consultation right. Arbitration likely unavailable for separation decision itself because discretion ultimately rests with Board. Ultimate Community power is Board recall.</td>
<td>Sole Member reserves power under Bylaws to override Board decision, regardless of Board fiduciary duties. Sole Member has standing to direct enforce consultation right. Sole Member would have greater latitude to invoke binding arbitration over PTI separation (although issue is not certain). Ultimate Community power is Board recall.</td>
