Annex 06 – Recommendation #6: Reaffirming ICANN’s Commitment to Respect Internationally Recognized Human Rights

1. Summary

- The subject of including a Commitment to Human Rights in the ICANN Bylaws has been extensively discussed by the CCWG-Accountability.
- The CCWG-Accountability sought legal advice on whether, upon the termination of the IANA Functions Contract between ICANN and the NTIA, ICANN’s specific Human Rights obligations could be called into question. It was found that, upon termination of the Contract, there would be no significant impact on ICANN’s Human Rights obligations. However, the CCWG-Accountability reasoned that a commitment to Human Rights should be included in ICANN’s Bylaws in order to comply with the NTIA criteria to maintain the openness of the Internet.
- This proposed Draft Bylaw on Human Rights would reaffirm ICANN’s existing obligations within its narrow scope and Mission, and would clarify ICANN’s commitment to respecting Human Rights.
- Amendments to the proposed Draft Bylaw text since Draft 2 aim to prevent Mission expansion or ‘Mission creep’ by stating that ICANN’s commitment to respect internationally recognized Human Rights is conducted “within its mission and in its operations”.
- The proposed Draft Bylaw does not impose any enforcement duty on ICANN, or any obligation on ICANN to take action in furtherance of the Bylaw.
- Additionally, the CCWG-Accountability has identified several work areas that need to be undertaken as part of Work Stream 2 in order to fully operationalize ICANN’s commitment to Human Rights, including the development of a Framework of Interpretation.
- To ensure that the work assigned to Work Stream 2 takes place, the CCWG-Accountability proposes that an interim Bylaw that outlines the specific areas to be addressed is added to the current Bylaws. This interim Bylaw will exist temporarily in the ICANN Bylaws up until a Framework of Interpretation for the actual Human Rights Bylaw is published.

2. CCWG-Accountability Recommendations

- Include a Bylaw with the following intent in WS1 Recommendations:
 - “Within its mission and in its operations, ICANN will respect internationally recognized human rights. This commitment does not in any way create an obligation for ICANN, or any entity having a relationship with ICANN, to protect or enforce human rights beyond what may be required by applicable law. In particular, this does not create any additional obligation for ICANN to respond to or consider any complaint, request or demand seeking the enforcement of human rights by ICANN.”
 - In order to ensure that the Human Rights related tasks that are allocated to Work Stream 2 take place, the CCWG-Accountability proposes a draft interim Bylaw, which must be adopted as part of Work Stream 1. The interim Bylaw would convey the following:

“Bylaw xx will be implemented in accordance with the framework of interpretation to be developed as part of “Work Stream 2” by the CCWG-Accountability or another cross-community working group chartered for such purpose by one or more Supporting Organizations or Advisory Committees. This group must be established promptly, in order to develop an appropriate framework of interpretation as promptly as possible, but in no event later than one year after Bylaw xx is adopted.” (This interim Bylaw will exist temporarily in the ICANN Bylaws up until a Framework of Interpretation for the actual Human Rights Bylaw is published.)
- Include the following in Work Stream 2 Activities

The CCWG-Accountability identified several work areas that it recommends should be undertaken as part of Work Stream 2 in order to fully operationalize ICANN’s commitment to Human Rights:

 - Development of a Framework of Interpretation for the Human Rights Bylaw

- Consider which specific Human Rights conventions or other instruments should be used by ICANN in interpreting and implementing the Human Rights Bylaw
- Consider the policies and frameworks, if any, that ICANN needs to develop or enhance in order to fulfil its commitment to Human Rights
- Consistent with ICANN's existing processes and protocols, consider how these new frameworks should be discussed and drafted to ensure broad multistakeholder involvement in the process
- Consider what effect, if any, this Bylaw will have on ICANN's consideration of advice given by the Governmental Advisory Committee (GAC)
- Consider how, if at all, this Bylaw will affect how ICANN's operations are carried out
- Consider how the interpretation and implementation of this Bylaw will interact with existing and future ICANN policies and procedures.

Comment [1]: Should GAC advice be the only advice mentioned?

3. Detailed Explanation of Recommendations

As part of the discussion on the inclusion of a Human Rights Bylaw, the CCWGAccountability requested analysis from its legal counsel about whether, upon the termination of the IANA Functions Contract between ICANN and the NTIA, ICANN's specific Human Rights obligations could be called into question. The key aspects are as follows:

- Only nation states have direct Human Rights obligations under international law. However, private sector organizations are required to comply with all applicable laws, including those related to Human Rights.
- Upon termination of the Contract, there would be no significant impact on ICANN's Human Rights obligations.¹

However, the CCWG-Accountability reasoned that a commitment to Human Rights should be included in ICANN's Bylaws in order to comply with the NTIA criteria to maintain the openness of the Internet. These criteria include free expression and the free flow of information.

Further, the CCWG-Accountability emphasized that adding a commitment to Human Rights to the ICANN Bylaws should not lead to an expansion of ICANN's Mission or scope. While there was general agreement that ICANN should commit to respect Human Rights within the limited scope of its Mission, any type of external enforcement or regulatory activity would be wholly out of scope.

The CCWG-Accountability also disagreed with any attempt to single out any specific Human Rights (such as ‘freedom of expression’) in the proposed Draft Bylaw text on the basis that Human Rights cannot be selectively mentioned, emphasized or applied since they are universal, indivisible, interdependent and interrelated.

Draft Bylaw on Human Rights

Responding to public comments received on Second Draft Proposal that expressed concerns about potentially expanding ICANN’s Mission and the risk of appearing to prioritize some Human Rights over others, the CCWG-Accountability presents the following proposed draft Bylaw for consideration:

“Within its mission and in its operations, ICANN will respect internationally recognized human rights. This commitment does not in any way create an obligation for ICANN, or any entity having a relationship with ICANN, to protect or enforce human rights beyond what may be required by applicable law. In particular, this does not create any additional obligation for ICANN to respond to or consider any complaint, request or demand seeking the enforcement of human rights by ICANN.”

Operationalizing the Commitment to Human Rights

The CCWG-Accountability has identified several activities that it recommends be undertaken as part of Work Stream 2 that will fully operationalize ICANN’s commitment to Human Rights. Work Stream 2 focuses on accountability topics for which a timeline for developing solutions and full implementation may extend beyond the IANA Stewardship Transition. To ensure that these Work Stream 2 activities are implemented, the CCWG-Accountability requires that a Bylaw be adopted as part of Work Stream 1.

The new Bylaw will state that the proposed draft Human Rights Bylaw is to be implemented in accordance with the Framework of Interpretation, which will be developed as part of Work

Stream 2. The Bylaw proposed for adoption as part of Work Stream 1 will be used for a limited period of time only, up until the Framework of Interpretation is published.

The CCWG-Accountability states that the group that will work on developing the Framework of Interpretation must be established as soon as possible so that the Framework can be published no later than one year after the Bylaw is adopted.

The Human Rights-related activities to be addressed in Work Stream 2 are:

- Developing a Framework of Interpretation for the Bylaw
- Considering which specific Human Rights conventions or other instruments should be used by ICANN in interpreting and implementing the Bylaw
- Considering the policies and frameworks, if any, that ICANN needs to develop or enhance in order to fulfill its commitment to Human Rights
- Considering how these new frameworks should be discussed and drafted to ensure broad multistakeholder involvement in the process, consistent with ICANN's existing processes and protocols
- Considering what effect, if any, this Bylaw will have on ICANN's consideration of advice given by the Governmental Advisory Committee
- Considering how, if at all, this Bylaw will affect how ICANN's operations are carried out

Considering how the interpretation and implementation of this Bylaw will interact with existing and future ICANN policies and procedures

In order to ensure that the Human Rights related tasks that are allocated to Work Stream 2 take place, the CCWG-Accountability proposes a draft interim Bylaw, which must be adopted as part of Work Stream 1. The interim Bylaw would convey the following:

“Bylaw xx will be implemented in accordance with the framework of interpretation to be developed as part of “Work Stream 2” by the CCWG-Accountability or another cross-community working group chartered for such purpose by one or more Supporting Organizations or Advisory Committees. This group must be established promptly, in order to develop an appropriate framework of interpretation as promptly as possible, but in no event later than one year after Bylaw xx is adopted.”

This interim Bylaw will exist temporarily in the ICANN Bylaws up until a Framework of Interpretation for the actual Human Rights Bylaw is published.

Finally, the CCWG-Accountability recognizes that a mere commitment in the bylaws is not sufficient. The development of Frameworks for Interpretation and implementation are required to ensure that this Bylaw does not expand ICANN's scope or Mission or have a negative impact on ICANN's operations.

4. Changes from the ‘Second Draft Proposal on Work Stream 1 Recommendations’

In the Second Draft Proposal, the CCWG-Accountability proposed two possible ways that a reference to Human Rights could be added into ICANN’s Bylaws, which were rejected:

- Within its Mission and in its operations, ICANN will be committed to respect the fundamental Human Rights of the exercise of free expression and the free flow of information.
- Within its Mission and in its operations, ICANN will be committed to respect internationally recognized fundamental Human Rights.

In the third draft these options have been replaced with the following bylaws:

- “Within its mission and in its operations, ICANN will respect internationally recognized human rights. This commitment does not in any way create an obligation for ICANN, or any entity having a relationship with ICANN, to protect or enforce human rights beyond what may be required by applicable law. In particular, this does not create any additional obligation for ICANN to respond to or consider any complaint, request or demand seeking the enforcement of human rights by ICANN.”
- “Bylaw xx will be implemented in accordance with the framework of interpretation to be developed as part of “Work Stream 2” by the CCWG-Accountability or another cross-community working group chartered for such purpose by one or more Supporting Organizations or Advisory Committees. This group must be established promptly, in order to develop an appropriate framework of interpretation as promptly as possible, but in no event later than one year after Bylaw xx is adopted.”
- This interim Bylaw will exist temporarily in the ICANN Bylaws up until a Framework of Interpretation for the actual Human Rights Bylaw is published.

Finally, the CCWG-Accountability recognizes that a mere commitment in the bylaws is not sufficient. The development of Frameworks for Interpretation and implementation are required to ensure that this Bylaw does not expand ICANN’s scope or Mission or have a negative impact on ICANN’s operations.
