It was agreed to release the Principle Documents on 13 September 2017 and have the unofficial public comment period for 40 days.
- 2. Status of Repertoire work. The shared Code Point table was discussed and the WG agreed to continue working on it in the way that each line consists of a code point, its language and its link to the proper reference. A separate line will be added for the same code point being used for a different language.
