Maryam Bakoshi: Dear all, welcome to the ICANN and Human Rights call on 25th April 2016

Niels ten Oever: Hi all

Vidushi Marda: Hello!

Maryam Bakoshi: Welcome Niels

Maryam Bakoshi: Motoko has joined the audio bridge

Vidushi Marda: excellent!

Narine Khachatryan: Hello everyone

matthew shears: scroll control please?

Corinne Cath: sure

Corinne Cath: excellent!

Motoko Aizawa: Hi Tatiana. I'd love to help - if you would like to share what you write I would be happy to provide feedback.

Tatiana Tropina: Thanks Corinne, that was really a thorough search - excellent job :)

Corinne Cath: np - happy to help

Karel Douglas: Hi ALL

Karel Douglas: sorry for being late - apologies

matthew shears: the FOI is a "Framework of Interpretation for the Human Rights Bylaw" so the focus should be on an analytical approach to the bylaw and its component parts and what the component parts mean individually and as a whole for ICANN

Tatiana Tropina: Matt this is what I say. This is legal analysis

Tatiana Tropina: but the term is super confusing

matthew shears: (sorry Corinne - haven't read your e-mail I realize)

Tatiana Tropina: why did we ever come with this term???

Niels ten Oever: It was suggested by Greg Niels ten Oever: Consensus language :)

Tatiana Tropina: No it was suggested by Greg and ME.

Tatiana Tropina: :(

matthew shears: also hard to separate the FOI from applicability or Ruge and other texts

matthew shears: of

Tatiana Tropina: I don't see a big issue of separation here (yet)

Tatiana Tropina: because this is indeed a part of the work of development of FOI

Tatiana Tropina: Ok I lowered my hand

Niels ten Oever: ToR:

<https://community.icann.org/display/gnsononcomstake/Human+Rights+and+I+CANN+Research>

Tatiana Tropina: Now, to what you told, Matt: exactly my point, it is a legal analysis and shall be. Corinne's email actually confirms this by showing us that what exists in terms of FOI is not applicable to us

matthew shears: agree - thanks

Tatiana Tropina: all the work of Corinne, instrument, etc is a part of this. But of course all we can do is suggestions. I assume the legal part will be heavily debated by some of the lawyers on CCWG and to be honest I am looking forward to that discussions

Vidushi Marda: hi!

matthew shears: which gives us a little more latitude

stefania milan: is it only me, or the call got funny?

Aarti Bhavana: Quite a bit of echo, can't hear properly

Narine Khachatryan: there is an echo in adobe room

Corinne Cath: its like there is 4 of you niels

Karel Douglas: I want to thank and compliment Vidushi on her EXCELLENT leadership of our group

Niels ten Oever: Vidushi have you got anything to add on the work?

Niels ten Oever: Or asks for help?

Maryam Bakoshi: Apologies all, it was coming from a participants mic

Karel Douglas:at the same time ask her and the group's apologies for not being able to partake in the respective tasks due to work related overload!

Niels ten Oever: I see that there was a deadline on April 20, let us know if you would like the greater group to review work stefania milan: and now no sound?

Vidushi Marda: definitely stefania milan: the ToR are sitting on my machine, but no charger.

stefania milan: can you hear me?

Niels ten Oever: no

Aarti Bhavana: No

Niels ten Oever: we don't hear you stefania milan: in any case, I am not the best to summarize what's going on, as I have been able to attend only the last call. The ToR are one of my commitments, but haven't been able to deliver so far, sorry stefania milan: so, not much of an update I am afraid.

stefania milan: I have also been (for personal reasons) also latitant on the PDPs I am attending, so I am particularly useless today

Tatiana Tropina: we can grab a coffee together all of us :)

Tatiana Tropina: on the check of Article 19 :P

Aarti Bhavana: haha! sounds like a plan :P

Tatiana Tropina: :P Niels has not agreed yet but he has to, otherwise we won't show up :P

Karel Douglas: sounds good Niels\

Tatiana Tropina: Thanks Niels and all!

Vidushi Marda: Thanks! Bye all
