REQUEST DESCRIPTION
1. Activity: Please describe your proposed activity in detail
The activity is designed as an outreach effort toward civil society outside ICANN including NGOs, academics, and activists. The aim is to educate the target audience about how the multi-stakeholder model works and how it could be improved using Civil Society engagement in the IANA Transition process as a case study. The workshop will share experiences from the IANA Stewardship Transition Group and the Cross-Community Working Group on Enhancing ICANN Accountability. It will invite participants and members from these groups. An important aspect discussed will be the participation from marginalized stakeholders and barriers to participation for actors from developing countries and regions. The workshop will exhibit various elements of ICANN's multistakeholder model and provide an opportunity to discuss its successes and scope for improvement. This will facilitate a clearer map of civil society engagement in post-transition ICANN. By promoting ongoing policy discussion, it will analyze how the transition will impact Civil Society engagement in ICANN in the future, particularly from the perspective of NCSG and its constituencies.

Evolve and further globalize ICANN: The workshop would aid learning from the multistakeholder experience through the IANA transition and help in identifying new stakeholders and encourage their participation. It will also aid in advancing organizational, technological and operational excellence by encouraging development of a globally diverse culture of knowledge and expertise available to ICANN Board, staff and stakeholders. The workshop also fits into the strategic plan to promote ICANN's role and multistakeholder approach.
