Drew Bagley:<http://www.antiphishing.org/resources/apwg-reports/>
Brian Aitchison:A lot of the references within the DNS abuse report could be useful in themselves too Gaongalelwe:thanks Brian Alice Jansen:Will do!
Pamela Smith:Will do, Lauren Brian Aitchison:old hand Brian Aitchison:@Margie: something simple like research questions, main findings, etc fabro steibel (desktop):Next F2F is washington, but do we have another in finland? I don't think so, but

Carlos Raul Gutierrez:no hurry, but they get expensive if we wait Carlton Samuels:Howdy all Carlton Samuels:Had a time getting service Carlton Samuels:My apologies Carlos Raul Gutierrez:Hi Carlton!
Pamela Smith>Welcome, Carlton. fabro steibel (desktop):One idea: the draft safeguard against DNS abuse has a very interesting methodology, that we could use to inspire a draft model document to fill in fabro steibel (desktop):page 31, I will copy it below fabro steibel (desktop):1. Identify the research problem clearly. What is the empirical puzzle we're trying to solve?2. Review and synthesize previously published literature associated with the problem.3. Clearly and explicitly specify research questions and/or hypotheses central to the research problem.4. Effectively describe the data necessary to adequately answer the research questions and/or test the hypotheses, and explain how such data will be obtained.5. Describe the methods of analysis to be applied to the data in determining whether or not the hypotheses are true or false.
fabro steibel (desktop):I will try to make audio fabro steibel (desktop):The general comments fabro steibel (desktop):right now the document we have has a list of topics, and we have a region list. Maybe we can make a simple table linking information fabro steibel (desktop):The methodology proposed by the dn report has 5 questions, that we one way or another are using Calvin Browne:I'm curious as to how big the name collision problem actually is fabro steibel (desktop):I am just thinking if we can have a better "canvas document" to input information fabro steibel (desktop):I will bring it in the next meeting, with audio, no problem Jamie Hedlund:Apologies, I need to drop. Thank you all.
Pamela Smith:The document Carlos is referring to is on the Competition Sub Team page in their Documents under yesterday's day, 13 April 2016 Pamela Smith:<https://community.icann.org/pages/viewpage.action?pageId=58727390>
