
RECORDED VOICE: This meeting is now being recorded.

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: We had hoped to come out of this meeting with article segments. We'll see how close we are. Maybe I'll start by asking for very short two minute updates from each of our rapporteurs. [Inaudible]...

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: I circulate [inaudible], but I must say, I have gotten no responses. But this is... What I did was start with the list in the analysis report, which has about 10 or a dozen groups. I went through, I think, [inaudible] the top 500 of the [inaudible] 1,000 gTLDs. And I top of the list, happy to give it to you, which consists of two kinds of gTLDs. Some are proposed additions to groups that are already in the analysis group report.

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: So they have an existing... [CROSSTALK]

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: [inaudible] to education group, and to photography group.

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Okay.

Although the transcription is largely accurate, in some cases may be incomplete or inaccurate due to inaudible passages and grammatical corrections. It is posted as an aid to the original audio file, but should not be treated as an authoritative record.

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: ...these were done, that was...

[SPEAKER OFF MICROPHONE]

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Jonathan, this is for staff people. Is this the end of our sub-team breakout time today? There is another tomorrow?

[CROSSTALK]

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: All right, so why don't you send out that definition to the sub-team list tonight. We can have some help and then we'll, tomorrow we'll return with people's feedback, try to nail that down. And then the other thing we need to do is figure out how to go [AUDIO INTERFERENCE] definition to an actual list of TLDs relatively...

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: ...breakout session tomorrow afternoon, after lunch, for one hour.

[MUSIC]

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Okay. That might be worth [inaudible] too, if you want to make some assessment on that, you'll have to keep rolling or [inaudible] from the bigger group.

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: We may have to break out into sub-sub teams for a little while and see if we could nail down our...

[CROSSTALK]

...the topic is the [inaudible], chance to see the other groups...

[SPEAKER OFF MICROPHONE]

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Well before breaking into sub-sub teams, may I say [inaudible]... I must say that I do not agree with a [term] approach, as a matter of fact.

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Okay, so let's... Let me get the report from the regional group, and then we'll come back to your [CROSSTALK]...

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: ...language, we actually allow three [inaudible]...

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Yes, we'll come back to you in just a minute, after we get [CROSSTALK] report. Yeah, I would do it on the [inaudible]...

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Oh, we are [inaudible] in the sub-group, one with Jordyn [LAUGHTER AND CROSSTALK]...

Okay. I just proposed a definition, [inaudible] give it to. [CROSSTALK]

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: I'm okay with the revised definition, so I think Jonathan [inaudible], so the we have our definitions.

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Yes, geographic [matters] [inaudible] location, give us the name of a place, or [inaudible]... Consumers can choose geographic gTLD in order to [AUDIO INTERFANCE] markets, we give the example of dot Tokyo, dot [inaudible], dot Asia. And then [inaudible] complete work [inaudible]... be able to [inaudible] populate that space, this is the example.

[Inaudible] that definition and...

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Sure. I think the definition [inaudible] we'll want to document [CROSSTALK]...

JONATHAN ZUCK: ...group the actual TLDs into those categories.

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: I think that's the main, that we just need to, that's why we [CROSSTALK]...

JONATHAN ZUCK: Right, we have to populate that.

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Yeah. So okay. So we're doing better than the language people, but worse than the topic [people]. So we're the median. [LAUGHTER AND CROSSTALK]

So [inaudible], we'll need some, probably, ideally tomorrow, which we'll try to set aside some time to do those [inaudible] you and Stan can take a nap, unless Kaili [inaudible] approach. Kaili, what would you like to do for next steps?

KAILI KAN: [SPEAKER OFF MICROPHONE]

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: So language, no [inaudible]. [CROSSTALK]

KAILI KAN: So, [inaudible] persons has been wondering of approach of groups [inaudible] gTLDs, new gTLDs. So, my feeling is that these we want group is to define the market, and what is the market? As Stan explained before, and I truly believe in that, is how two gTLDs [inaudible] to each other, okay?

So, right now, according to a third approach, yes, but for a [inaudible] insane location, [inaudible] in the same language and also in the same grouping as them, [inaudible] then we assume there are also the same market, and therefore [inaudible] looking at [inaudible] quite a few times ago, when we looked at the eight analysis group's [inaudible]...

[MUSIC]

...here, there is a grouping here for [inaudible] of the home group, and for [inaudible] both in home groups. And presumably, I see...

[MUSIC AND CROSSTALK]

[Inaudible] so therefore...

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Well actually [inaudible]... [LAUGHTER AND CROSSTALK]

KAILI KAN: ...but so [inaudible] with [inaudible]... I think we've just discussed that a little. [Inaudible] our emails and also [inaudible] discuss that with Stan, on that issue extensively. So that is why I, personally I feel [inaudible] a third approach is valid, because this was, would not seem to lead us to the gTLD competing against...

[MUSIC]

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: Because I would say, photography, photo, and photos, all three of those [inaudible]...

[NO AUDIO]

UNKNOWN SPEAKER: I hope I don't have no trouble getting home.

[MUSIC]

[NO AUDIO]
