

Reviewing the CEP
CCWG – Accountability
Work Stream 2

Interviews conducted by Anna Loup and Edward Morris

Observations:

- There should be no hard deadlines. One of the benefits of the CEP is it allows parties the time to resolve differences.
- Maximum flexibility should be built into the CEP.
- There should be a third party in the room. Initial thought was the Ombudsman but upon further reflection no: should be someone else, but who?
- Hired counsel should not be allowed
- Felt that ICAN Legal used the CEP for discovery purpose
- Needs to be some sort of disclosure procedure short of full discovery
- Should be able to merge multiple cases and engage in “horse trading”
