

Expression of Interest

As an activist, always ready to help and invite those wanting to participate in fostering integrity and preventing corruption which are essential to promoting good governance, maintaining public confidence in government and public decision-making, and supporting societal wellbeing and prosperity. Ensuring transparent transactions and a clean business environment in the private sector is as important component of a global overall anti-corruption strategy. Efficient and competitive companies ensure healthier markets and greater investor confidence.

These questions basically motivates my Expression of Interest to BMSPC –

1. How will a set of global regulatory processes and organizations including a set of political actors be able to influence Internet Governance actions and outcomes?
2. How can political-economic relationships with institutions embodied, create sound policy frameworks, at national, regional and international levels, based on pro-poor and gender-sensitive development strategies to support accelerated investments in poverty eradication actions, to shape identities, actions, and outcomes?

Furthermore, clean companies that do business with governments can place an effective check on both private and public sector corruption. Effective mechanisms to disclose wrongdoing without fear of reprisals are at the heart of integrity in both business and government. If integrity is upheld at the core of an organisation's inner workings, and if concerns are discussed freely and there is no fear of persecution, then silence in the face of wrongdoing and adversity will no longer be the status quo in Global Affairs.

I have being involved in many evaluation and nomination for Directors of Boards within a sub-national government in Nigeria and I feel I have the requisite knowledge. Although, I am new to the ICANN At Large ecosystem and have being studying from the archives to enable me navigate my way around.

I am always soliciting for clarity on critical issues relating to employment, decent work and skills, Internet governance, protection of privacy and transparency, freedom of expression; the possibility of helping marginalized people in exploring the emerging global context as provided by the Internet in our daily lives; while supporting the rights and responsibilities the Internet has brought in an increasingly digitalized and globalized world.

As a consultant and a passionate advocate for free open Internet, open government data and open source software, I am aware, there is always a first time and I shall learn by doing.
