Terri Agnew:@Kavouss, I sent you a private AC message and an email

Kavouss Arasteh 2:Tks

Kavouss Arasteh 2:I replied

Vanda Scartezini:hi all !

Vanda Scartezini:`we are running in South America a survey about the reasons the newgTld around here was so few and expectation for the next round

Vanda Scartezini:when finished I beleive will be interesting for this group to know the reasons

Vanda Scartezini:i am in a noise area- airport , reason why I will not open the microphone.

Vanda Scartezini:welcome Avri.

Vanda Scartezini:is ok for me

Alan Greenberg:I have a conflit and will only be able to stay for about a 1/2 hour.

Alan Greenberg:...conflict..

Terri Agnew:thank you for this information Alan

Kavouss Arasteh 2:Terri

Kavouss Arasteh 2:Has the meeting started

Kavouss Arasteh 2:I have not yet been dialed

Terri Agnew:@Kavouss, the op has tried dialing several times. She will keep trying

Martin SUTTON BRG:hi apologies for late arrival

Kavouss Arasteh 2:That was a neumber which has been dialed since July 2014 for hundreds of call

Terri Agnew:Op was able to reach you and you have joined on the telephone

Alan Greenberg:I have to leave now..

Rubens Kuhl:From a formal perspective, do we really need to answer for "no comments" comments ?

Rubens Kuhl:(Like 1.f R1, XLS line 34)

Emily Barabas:@jeff, I will do that. thanks.

Michael Flemming:To echo Phil Corwin, GAC points out that the results of all reviews should be considered.

Heather Forrest:Just to note Jeff's helpful suggestion to the Council that the WG be involved in future Council responses to the next GAC Communique. This is something I'll ensure is raised in the Council.

Heather Forrest:No problem!

Tracey Hind (ACIG GAC Secretariat):there is a hand up in the chat

Tracey Hind (ACIG GAC Secretariat):on the GAC page...

Kurt Pritz:Re: GAC - The Policy, at the time of approval of the first round, was to have a subsequent round within a year of the the last round. This was to allow those who weren't reached by ICANN's communication strategy to "catch up." Since then, there have been reviews inserted in the critical path (e.g., the RPM review) but the sort of comprehensive review contemplated by the GAC in this letter is not part of the current policy. There is no need for an "agreed policy and administrative framework supported by all stakeholders" (whatever that is.

jorge cancio (GAC Switzerland):Hi there. As GAC member I may clarify that the GAC input and advice refer mainly to already envisaged and ongoing reviews, which are not still finalised Rubens Kuhl:On the RySG comment on implementation, one decision the full WG needs to make is to make one IRT for the WG or one IRT per Work Track. I personally favor the later, to have 4 IRTs at this point that would be merged in the future, but either option works.

jorge cancio (GAC Switzerland):We have to be mindful that announcements made when the 2012 round started were well-meant intentions, I guess. At that moment of time many of the issues encountered later on had not been possible to be anticipated...

Heather Forrest:Jeff - We'll take your question back.

Martin Sutton:nope

VAIBHAV AGGARWAL:Hey Guys Got Late

Martin Sutton:I think the IPC response is clear - no reason to change the policy but they query that it has not followed through with a mechanism put in place

Michael Flemming:It seems like I am unheard

Terri Agnew:@Michael, I see your mic is active on AC ,please check your mic

Michael Flemming:It seems my microphone is not connected properly

Terri Agnew:@Michael, let us know if a dial out on the telephone is needed

Michael Flemming:That would be well

Avri Doria:10 minutes left in meeting

Terri Agnew:Michael is on audio

Laura Watkins (Nominet):I believe it is from the IPC statement

Emily Barabas:IPC Response to CC1:

<https://community.icann.org/pages/viewpage.action?pageId=59645660&preview=/59645660/61608092/IPC%20Response%20-%20Community%20Comment%201.pdf>

jorge cancio (GAC Switzerland):Perhaps there was no contradiction - simply at that time, people thought that all reviews would have been done within that one year

Avri Doria:yes, we were optimistic back then.

Terri Agnew:@Michael, your audio is cutting in and out

Michael Flemming:Apologies for the bad audio.

Michael Flemming:Hi Avri, thank you for the clarification.

Cheryl Langdon-Orr (CLO):Thx Avri, Jeff and Everyone, good to get started on all this sorry to be so mute Midnight here and sleeping child in m room ( I am still kinds on bed rest) Bye for now ... Talk again soon...

jorge cancio (GAC Switzerland):on 1c) the GAC answer seems to be cut off?

Rubens Kuhl:Avri, I'll just post the issue to the mailing list as it requires more time to discuss.

Michael Flemming:I echo Cheryl. I need to catch a train home so am cutting out early.

jorge cancio (GAC Switzerland):thanks!

Cheryl Langdon-Orr (CLO):bye

Sara Bockey:Thank you all.

Rubens Kuhl:Thanks all!

Katrin Ohlmer | DOTZON GmbH:Thanks all!

Christa Taylor:Thanks everyone!

Iliya Bazlyankov:Thanks all, bye!

Harold Arcos:thanks all take care

jorge cancio (GAC Switzerland):thanks and bye all!

VAIBHAV AGGARWAL:Thanks Team
