Michelle DeSmyter:Dear All, Welcome to the Privacy and Proxy Service Provider Accreditation IRT Subteam 3 meeting on Friday, 16 June 2017 at 15:00 UTC

Eric Rokobauer:agree with Roger

Chris Pelling:after all, sorry for tardiness

Chris Pelling:tardiness *

Roger Carney:Sounds perfect

Theo Geurts:create a definition good idea steve metalitz:@Theo why assume these will be free services? No registrar provides these services for free.

Chris Pelling:In the non affiliated accreditation case, their could be an extra fee in case of de-accreditation, ICANN holds the funds and provides those funds to the registrar

Chris Pelling:as the registrar has to "fix" the data

Chris Pelling:or ICANN compliance can correct the data

Theo Geurts:with every Registry being Thick we could maybe also centralise it at a registry level

Chris Pelling:Before NameCheap was using their own gTLD creds, they were using their own PP service at eNom

Chris Pelling:COMMENT ^^

Tom Barrett - EnCirca:it would be helpful to identify the type of non-affiliated providers who provide their details in the Whois on behalf of the beneficial owner who would not consider themselves subject to this new policy.

Roger Carney:Theo doesn't like Chris that much :)

Chris Pelling>Last time I buy Theo beers ;)

Roger Carney:lol

Theo Geurts:I only dare to use Chris as an example as he such a nice person

Tom Barrett - EnCirca:good point Steve steve metalitz:Let's get specific about how escrow requirements would be different for unaffiliated providers.

Theo's suggestion that the escrow indicate which registrar is associated with each registration is a good one. Are there others?

Theo Geurts:I think technically we can solve everything steve metalitz:@Theo , how would customer transfer to a different registrar? Service provider would need to do this since they are "the registrar"

Theo Geurts:not if the email alias is set to the registrant, the registrant would get the FOA

Roger Carney:After Joburg

Chris Pelling:after would be better

Chris Pelling:yes to friday4Yes to friday

Roger Carney:This time works

Theo Geurts:friday is good

Chris Pelling:thanks all

Tom Barrett - EnCirca:bye
