David Taylor: (09:16) I'll give you a mobile number to call me back on then

Jean-Baptiste Deroulez: (09:17) yes please

David Taylor: (09:20) Poor mobile signal. I have dialied in again using my iPad which is connected to a VPN to the UK so you may like me better...

David Taylor: (09:20) and may even hear me when I try to speak....

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:21) @Laureen: That is exactly how I am approaching my review

Jean-Baptiste Deroulez: (09:21) I can too

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:22) I shared the SSAC-recommended characterisation of abuse last week. This will be my point of departure.

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:23) @Jonathan: +1 "Where you sit is wher you stand". We have a more pithy - maybe even vulgar - saying where I come from for that!

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:23) :-)

David Taylor: (09:24) pray tell Carlton

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:24) @Jonathan: +1 its wording for true!

Drew Bagley: (09:24) Yeah, I liked JZ's explanation during the session

Drew Bagley: (09:24) about removing barriers

Drew Bagley: (09:24) I think that's a good approach

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:24) @David: I will have to whisper it to you in person.

Drew Bagley: (09:25) and then I think we should make the abuse definition clear that we're discussing "technical abuse" although we should note that that sometimes overlaps with other forms of abuse

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:25) @Drew: I will forward the proposed framework for discussing abuse from my contacts in the SSAC

Drew Bagley: (09:26) thanks

Jonathan Zuck: (09:27) noooooooooo!

David Taylor: (09:28) I can hear myself!

David Taylor: (09:28) this is bizarre

David Taylor: (09:28) and I can hear you

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:30) All: Just circulated the suggestion from SSAC of how we might record abuse in terms of the ICANN remit; seeing to the security, stability and resiliency of the DNS.

David Taylor: (09:30) You can call me on +27xxxxxx

Brenda Brewer: (09:30) will call you now, David

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:31) I'm recommending we adopt and institute this as context for the generic and constant meaning of 'abuse' for the report.

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:32) @Laureen: Yes, I think we can find some opportunities for consolidation of recommendations 20-40.

David Taylor: (09:32) I am on using cellular technology and a 2004 Nokia.

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:33) @David: Still works, doesn't it! I have one still working. Bless Nokia

David Taylor: (09:34) Nokia 5140. Waterproof. Compass. Temperature (actual not app).... ;-)

David Taylor: (09:34) so want to talk

Brenda Brewer: (09:35) successful dial out to David. We should be able to hear him now.

Eleeza Agopian: (09:36) yay!

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:37) @David: I read it on the aircraft coming up. However, at call time I will be on the move again, in the air enroute back home to Kingston

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:51) Thanks Laureen

Carlton SAMUELS: (09:51) Thanks all

David Taylor: (09:51) bye

Gaongalelwe Mosweu (PC): (09:51) bye
