

Caitlin Tubergen:Hello, and welcome to the Privacy and Proxy Services Accreditation IRT Meeting on 10 October 2017!

Volker Greimann:Someone beatboxing?

Volker Greimann:Steve, your microphone is open steve metalitz:Is there audio? Not receiving through AC.

Caitlin Tubergen:@Steve -- we're just waiting one more minute to begin to allow people to join.

Greg DiBiase:anyone else lost audio?

Eric Rokobauer:No still have audio for me

Owen Smigelski:Works for me

Roger Carney:Sounds great

Theo Geurts:all good here

Greg DiBiase:ugh- thanks

Michelle DeSmyter:I will send Greg a private chat

Greg DiBiase:I got it back- thanks michelle

Vicky Sheckler:@michelle - not sure where you are going with this . . . ?

Michele Neylon:Ok so it's not a massive issue?

steve metalitz:I also have a comment on the 30 day change to 2.1 when this thread is done.

Volker Greimann:Q: If the provider is being deaccredited anyway, what would be the means to compel them to cooperate?

Michele Neylon:Volker - that's what we just covered :)

Michele Neylon:keep up man

Michele Neylon:+1 Steve

Volker Greimann:q: are Iron Mountain and other escrow providers contracted parties of ICANN?

Volker Greimann:I like the new prices

Michele Neylon:the zero?

Michele Neylon:I like that too

Volker Greimann:yup

Vicky Sheckler:disagree - streamline for affiliated p/p providers for sure, but some diligence required for unaffiliated providers. And this has already been streamlined quite a bit, hasn't it?

Roger Carney:Agree with Theo, looks quite a bit like the New gTLD application process

Michele Neylon:well differentiate between affiliated and un-affiliated

Vicky Sheckler:@michele - how do you define it?

Volker Greimann:Steve: +1

Michele Neylon:Vicky - ICANN already did in their documents I believe

Vicky Sheckler:i guess I misunderstood you comment - i thought you were suggesting the current definition was off-base

Michele Neylon:no

Theo Geurts:7.4
