2. Introduction, update to SOIs
Those who take part in ICANN’s multistakeholder process, including Board, staff and all those involved in Supporting Organization and Advisory Committee councils, undertake to:

- Act in accordance with ICANN’s Bylaws. In particular, participants undertake to act within the mission of ICANN and in the spirit of the values contained in the Bylaws.
- Adhere to ICANN’s conflict of interest policies.
- Treat all members of the ICANN community equally, irrespective of nationality, gender, racial or ethnic origin, religion or beliefs, disability, age or sexual orientation. Members of the ICANN community should treat each other with civility both face-to-face and online.
- Respect all members of the ICANN community equally and behave according to professional standards and demonstrate appropriate behavior. ICANN strives to create and maintain an environment in which people of many different backgrounds and cultures are treated with dignity, decency and respect. Specifically, participants in the ICANN process must not engage in any type of harassment. Gender harassment is considered unwelcome or intimidating behavior — in particular, speech or behavior that is sexually aggressive or intimidating based on attributes such as age, gender, ethnicity, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, disability or medical condition, sexual orientation or gender identity.
- Protect the organization’s assets and ensure their efficient and effective use.
- Act fairly and in good faith with other participants in the ICANN process.
- Conduct themselves in accordance with ICANN policies.
- Support the maintenance of robust mechanisms for public input, accountability, and transparency so as to ensure that policy development and decision-making processes will reflect the public interest and be accountable to all stakeholders.
- Listen to the views of all stakeholders when considering policy issues. ICANN’s unique multistakeholder environment requires that those who take part in the ICANN process accommodate the interests of all stakeholders and seek to understand their points of view.
- Work to build consensus with other stakeholders in order to find solutions to the issues that fall within the area of ICANN’s responsibility. The ICANN model is based on a bottom-up, consensus-driven approach to policy development. Those who take part in the ICANN process must take responsibility for ensuring the success of the model by trying to build consensus with other participants.
- Promote ethical and responsible behavior. Ethics and integrity are essential, and ICANN expects all stakeholders to behave in a responsible and principled way.
- Facilitate transparency and openness when participating in policy development and decision-making processes.
- Act in a reasonable, objective and informed manner when participating in policy development and decision-making processes. This includes regularly attending all scheduled meetings and exercising independent judgment based solely on what is in the overall best interest of Internet users and the stability and security of the Internet’s unique identifiers, irrespective of personal interests and the identity of the entity to which individuals might owe their allegiance.
