from Terri Agnew to All Participants: Dear All, welcome to the New gTLD Subsequent Procedures Sub Team – Track 2 – Legal/Regulatory Issues call on Thursday, 29 March 2018.

from Michael Flemming to All Participants:

from Steven Chan to All Participants: I believe under the Participants menu, there is a raise hand option from Sara Bockey to All Participants: Attendees is popping open in a separate window for me... and doesn't indicate hand raised.

from Julie Hedlund to All Participants:To view the hands you need to view the list of attendees.

from Julie Hedlund to All Participants:For example, Karen Day has her hand up.

from Sara Bockey to All Participants:@Julie, not working for me from Karen Day to All Participants:you can open the participants window to the side, but you still have to scroll yourself from Steven Chan to All Participants:The Panelists (aka staff) can see the hands raised. We're also happy to manage the queue for you.

from Greg Shatan to All Participants:@Julie, I don't see a hand raising option in the tablet version of WebEx. But I could be wrong.

from Steven Chan to All Participants:No hands Michael from Julie Hedlund to All Participants:@Michael: We are capturing notes in a separate document.

from Alan Greenberg to All Participants:Third bullet is what I already referred to.

from Julie Hedlund to All Participants:But we also are recording, which is still more complete and accurate than the notes.

from Steven Chan to All Participants:Michael Alan's hand is up from Greg Shatan to All Participants:Hand

from Michael Flemming to All Participants:Got you Greg from Cheryl Langdon-Orr to All Participants:wellsaid Greg, the option to change is well outside my 'comfort zone', from Cheryl Langdon-Orr to All Participants:Process to change (such as RSEP) etc., is a different matter from Greg Shatan to All Participants:Sounds like RSEP is not the answer.

from Cheryl Langdon-Orr to All Participants:Indeed but a Process seems to be worthy of exploration from Cheryl Langdon-Orr to All Participants:well worth the try from Cheryl Langdon-Orr to All Participants:That was a refer to Alan's last point

from Cheryl Langdon-Orr to All Participants:Yes Steve A question to solicit input from Steven Chan to All Participants:And this last bullet might make sense as an element of deliberations and/or an outside input to the WG from Greg Shatan to All Participants:Rest your voice Michael!

from Emily Barabas to All Participants:At this point, the next meeting is not yet scheduled.

from Greg Shatan to All Participants:Michael, do you need any throat lozenges sent to you from the USA?

from Cheryl Langdon-Orr to All Participants:Thanks Michael (especially struggling with a bad throat) and everyone for today's call, I feel we have made progress on this matter as we move towards our Interim Report. Bye for now until next call. (when that is settled)

from Karen Day to All Participants:Thanks, all!

from Emily Barabas to All Participants:It was all Michelle!

from Sophia Feng to All Participants:thank you all
