Lisa Phifer: (10:01) yay

Lisa Phifer: (10:02) who are we waiting for? Carlton, Stephanie, who else?

Stephanie Perrin: (10:04) I am not hearing anything, shall i try reconnecting?

Brenda Brewer: (10:05) Stephanie, can you hear us now?

Stephanie Perrin: (10:05) nope.

Stephanie Perrin: (10:05) I will try pushing a few buttons randomly, then try reconnecting. Odd.

Susan Kawaguchi: (10:07) my call failed

Brenda Brewer: (10:08) Everyone, please dial in again.

Alice Jansen: (10:08) Seems it was a general failure

Brenda Brewer: (10:08) Thank you.

Alan Greenberg: (10:08) For all of us. I think Adobe Connect is trying to tell us something

Stephanie Perrin: (10:08) Yes,

Alan Greenberg: (10:08) I'm not on yet

Stephanie Perrin: (10:09) Do we have quorum?

Susan Kawaguchi: (10:11) lucky you!

Stephanie Perrin: (10:12) are you not volunteering for this Susan...?

Stephanie Perrin: (10:13) re homework, I will try to get it done, swamped with a few other items...

Stephanie Perrin: (10:17) yes it is a busy time.

Susan Kawaguchi: (10:18) @Stephanie no, the BC appointed Margie and Mark Svancarek

Chris Disspain: (10:26) you are correct Alan

Chris Disspain: (10:27) requiring them to do that would be policy

Lisa Phifer 2: (10:27) Stephanie do you have proposed alternative text?

Chris Disspain: (10:27) It is not relevant to the review

Chris Disspain: (10:28) It may well be relevant for discussion in EPDP as Stephanie points out

Stephanie Perrin: (10:28) most laws now require it, as I indicated at the time, 50 states require it.

Chris Disspain: (10:30) Stephanie what you say may well be true but it is not for this review team to make that recommendatin

Lisa Phifer 2: (10:34) Would it be more acceptable for the recommendation to state that contractual requirements should require notification of data breaches that occur at registrars, registries, and escrow providers as may be required by applicable laws.

Chris Disspain: (10:37) I have a much more important question...Given that the temperature in Brussels this week is expected to be above 30c , is the office air conditioning working properly???

Alice Jansen: (10:38) Carlton has just joined the call

Stephanie Perrin: (10:39) Lisa I think that language would be a great improvement. I accept that some things may not be perceived to be in scope, but a stranger is not going to note that nuance, they are going to think we are saying something fundamentally stupid. Just trying to avoid that occurrence.

Carlton Samuels: (10:39) G'day all. Apologies for joining late. Some for-fee matters came up had to deal with

Stephanie Perrin: (10:40) yes
