ATRT2 meeting with the SSAC	Mon, 15 July 2013 07:30 - 08:30	Dev Anand Teelucksingh	SSAC members commented on the ATRT2 questions  Lot of discussion on Q1 (whether GNSO PDP is effective for developing gTLD policy)  SSAC chair mentioned that an issue is that it is silo based rather than topic based, and that cross constituency input/deliberations on issues don't happen or happens too late wherever the process is being developed. Examples of possible issues : new gTLDs, IDN ccTLD Fast Track  Steve Crocker mentioned a report just published on the internal SSAC list on the issue of conflict of names used on internal networks being deployed in the root was cited as an example.  This issue was mentioned by SSAC that such research was needed at the time of the initial root scaling survey for new gTLDs but was not done until now. Why did this take so long from a ATRT perspective?  Alan noted that cross community deliberations is mentioned in the AoC but not done by ICANN AC/SOs  Lyman C - when community centred processes such as GNSO PDP, in spite of cross-community and talking to to other ACs and SOs, there is a tendency by the AC/SO to complete the work internally. perhaps there needs to be mechanisms in the AC/SO PDP processes that requires input by other AC/SO groups before any AC/SO can publish reports.  SSAC is working on disclosure interests policy so that members' interests are disclosed in an open way and for others to see who was involved and affiliations in SSAC reports  SSAC chair mentioned that the SSAC has not ever been blocked/held back by ICANN legal to publish their reports. Reports may not be published as scheduled if there is not enough consensus.  Discussion on SSAC Accountability and Transparency -  <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ SSAC default is issues/reports/discussions are closed to the SSAC and not public - Should this be open?</li> <li>▪ Many SSAC persons said this should not change - having it open/public would inhibit SSAC members from posting/contributing to SSAC discussions in a frank manner</li> </ul>

NOMCOM	ALL DAY	Glenn McKnight	We are doing extensive deep dives and interviews with ICANN Board candidates. Very interesting candidates. Excellent candidates for the new board We are working all day and tomorrow on interviews and Friday and Saturday is the selection process

ALAC /NCSG	12:30-14:00 Wed, 17	Natalia Enci	Themes: 1. Joint Statement in TMCH in Beijing. 2. Request to return friday meetings. 1.The concern is the process. The real problem is that process that was follow by the CEO to gather a few people in a room without proper stakeholder participation, Not in complete agreement with the people that did participate in that process. The board approve the TMCH+50. You get to block 50 other names. The board ignore the request. The independent review process costs millions of dollars. Follow thourg the Community engagemente process. File an independent review process. Ask Icann to funding in the same way they are funding ALAC independent process. The CEO is restructuring the whole organization. Take a stand that this is a very crucial component. The creation of a division of implementation of a gold that is free of the stakeholder process, is problematic. We are going to isolate part of the process from the multistakholder model. It is the whole multistakeholder process that is being threaten by creating isolating division. The presidential committee that set the roadmap is another problem./ would like to see more information about how this is going to work. Understood is an operational part of ICANN. Contractual work. Ask the Board and FAdj and tema to produce a document that clearly define the work. The channel and bridges that connect. / have alarm bells ringing. / The MS is a complete work of ICANN, not a segment a ICANN. We are Icann. Alac can give advice on anything./ Be vigilant./ Say in the public forum. Joint statement, proper engagement process procedure. / Wish to first see evidence before raising a flag. / Produce a joint statement. /Alac have to take it back to other members. Statement that might have come from the alac in the future, asking for documents.

ATLAS II	Thursda y 12:30 - Room 12AB	Garth	Not on calendar - unscheduled meeting to discuss preparation for ATLAS II in London June 2014
Africa Untethered – the Era of Digital Africa	Wednes day July 17	Gordon Chillcott	I was only able to attend the second half of this meeting. This was a panel of African business people/entrepreneurs, discussing their experiences and lessons learned. The panelists covered a number of points describing their business environment, including the role (or lack of it) of their governments, the state of the technical infrastructure and the needs that startup businesses are trying to meet. The business goal is always value-add with the Internet at its core and providing a viable value proposition. There were some remarkable success stories, including in one case the intruduction of "mobile money" to meet the needs of the rural population. This success required a number of years of negotiation with the nation's banks. PERSONAL OBSERVATION I came into this meeting expecting to be impressed, as I always am with the achievements on that continent. I came away from it not a little humbled.

Academy Working Group	Monday July 15	Gordon Chillcott	This meeting began with a presentation of the Online Learning Platform. This platform was originally called the “online education platform” and became the Online Learning Platform (OLP). The OLP is to be implemented in three phases, beginning with a pilot system to be presented in Buenos Aires. The final OLP will be delivered as a personalized portal incorporated into myICANN. Moodle is the platform: it is open source and has global support so that there are local sources of support. There was an observation that the Online Learning Platform needs to not be a stand-alone offering. This needs to be fully part of the on-line engagement experience. Attention now turned to the question of how the OLP connects to ICANN Academy. The Academy was described to Chris and Nora and discussion ensued on how the OLP and the Academy map to each other. For example, in terms of content of Academy offerings, we may not need to re-invent the wheel. There are other sources, such as diplo or the African effort. Tijani observed that OLP and the Academy are not intended to be the same entity. The Academy is a much larger concern and OLP will simply be one of the tools. PERSONAL OBSERVATION: I believe Tijani is correct in his assertion that the Academy is the engine and OLP is a tool. Perhaps one of many. This needs to be emphasized at the highest level.
ATLAS II Organizing Committee	July 17	Gordon Chillcott	This was intended, apparently, to be a brainstorming session. There was some discussion of the survey, its design and its mechanics. A review of the last summit led to a discussion of what we expect to achieve in the upcoming one, and that : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• it should not be a continuation of the last one</li> <li>• it should not be simply a capacity building exercise.</li> </ul> Some further discussion on some other aspects: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• public relations</li> <li>• the level of knowledge expected from the AISs</li> <li>• showcase as a publicity event</li> <li>• post-summit planning</li> </ul> PERSONAL OBSERVATION; I will echo Olivier's final remark: "Let's start going".
ICANN On-Line Learning Initiative	July 17	Gordon Chillcott	A learning initiative. The technology is to be based on Moodle. This is it is open source and has global support so that there are local sources of support. The OLP is to be implemented in three phases, beginning with a pilot system to be presented in Buenos Aires. The final OLP will be delivered as a personalized portal incorporated into myICANN. Course content will first be sourced from existing material in ICANN, modified for the platform. There will be a third, ongoing phase to develop more content with a view to supporting a wide range of education needs. “New” course content might be gathered from the community. A “curator” will receive the material and it will be reviewed. There will be criteria for acceptance. This to take place in three phases, beginning with a prototype to be presented in Buenos Aires, a phase to begin creating content – in the beginning, based on existing material and a third, ongoing phase to develop more content with a view to supporting a wide range of education needs. “New” course content might be gathered from the community. A “curator” will receive the material and it will be reviewed. There will be criteria for acceptance. Material will be organized in learning “tracks” - modules that are small and engaging as possible to hold the participants interest. Format will vary rather widely: Videos (transcripts to be provided, as well as other aides), lessons, webinars, etc. There is an ambition to grant certificates at the end of some courses. ICANN itself will not grant the certificates – there is some discussion taking place with various institutions. This would take place in the third phase of this project. This led to a discussion that showed a strong interest in this initiative. PERSONAL OBSERVATION: This certainly seems to have generated a lot of interest. If successful, this would be a powerful tool for outreach.
Creating a New ICANN 5-Year Strategic Plan	July 15	Gordon Chillcott	This was: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. an introduction to the Strategic Planning exercise and some history, and</li> <li>2. the beginning of a conversation.</li> </ol> The conversation “began” in this meeting, with the participants broken up into discussion groups. The intent was to at least begin the conversation. On a larger scale, a web portal has been launched to gather “comments” through September. The comments are on a set of broad topics on ICANN's role. PERSONAL OBSERVATION: This really needs to go deep into the ALSs.

Contracting Process for new gTLD Applicants	July 15, 2013 16:30 - 17:30	Yaovi Atohoun	The session took place on July 15, 2013. It was a very informative session about the contracting process for the new gTLD applicants. I retained from this session that 4 applicants for the new gTLD has signed a contract with ICANN on July 15, 2013. You can have the full presentation here

A brochure on the Africa Strategy was distributed to the participants.</li> <li>• The ICANN CEO recognized the achievement and stressed on the fact that we need to see the results.</li> <li>• Mr Raymond Pizak echoed that this was the time to really work after the adoption of the Africa Strategy.</li> </ul> Part 2: A Panel of actors involved in ccTLD and DNS operation was held to share their view and perspectives for the DNS industry in Africa. As an example Affilias is ready to offer secondary DNS services. Part 3: The DNS Award program selection committee members were invited to the panel for the announcement of the winners of this first round. This competition was organized by ICANN and ISOC to promote the DNS industry in Africa Nii Quaynor, President of the selection committee presented the two categories of competitors (Registries and Registrars) before the announcement of the results. For the Registries, .ZA won the first prize and .TZ the second For Registrars, Kheweul from Senegal, which is the first operational registrar in Africa won the first prize and Diamatrix from South Africa got the second prize. The prizes were handed to the winners by Steve Crocker Chair of ICANN Board and Walda representing ISOC Group pictures with the selection committee members, the winners and the organizers were taken at the end of the ceremony.
