SECTION C. Internet Involvement and Interest in ICANN

(C.1) Describe how you meet the criteria for each of the ICANN leadership positions you are applying for:

I'm an electronic engineer with a very strong background on international business, international and public policies and specific Internet related policies, experienced on international trade negotiation and with a very strong formation and experience on strategic management on profit and non for profit organizations for more than 25 years.

As electronic engineer I have been participated in several courses as described before including those of very specific technical background at APRICOT (Asia Pacific Regional Internet Conference on Operational Technologies)

I'm also a member of several academic networks like GIGANET for Internet Governance and an academic in FLACSO www.flacso.org the Latin American more important university on policies where I worked in the ICT public policies Master course as teacher.

I've been involved on ICANN issues from 1998 participating in the Washington meeting of that year and later from then in several icann meetings.

In my country with some other Internet users create the ISOC Ecuadorian Chapter from 2000 www.isoc.org.ec and the Ecuadorian Corporation of Electronic Commerce, CORPECE www.corpece.org.ec

I'm have a complete understanding of the ICANN issues and challenges and also about domain names, IP address, and technical and non technical related issues.

I've been working for more than 20 years in several national and international boards and committees with great success and also have experience with economic and administrative issues as stated in my professional background.

In my professional experience I also work with good governance practices for the electrical and telecommunications industry and in several organizations I managed we have ISO 9001-2000 certification for example www.cieepi.ec <<http://www.cieepi.org/>> and andinatel S.A. so I understand very well how to work with standards, big and medium organizations, profit and non for profit and technical and non technical tasks.

(C.2) Describe current and past involvement in, contributions to, and leadership roles in activities and organizations involved in the development and operation of the Internet, its naming and addressing infrastructure and/or its security and stability:

As President of ANDINATEL I was also the president of ANDINANET the leader Internet company in Ecuador. We develop policies, practices and standards for the Internet business and technical operation.

With some colleagues I develop and get approved from the Ecuadorian Congress the Electronic Commerce and Electronic Transactions Law from 2002.

As National Director of the Ecuadorian Agenda of Connectivity work on several aspects of electronic communications, electronic government, security and stability of networks implementing regulations and standards to be followed for all Internet and telecom companies working in Ecuador. Including are NAPs, telecom infrastructure, security and stability policies, telecentres, and more.

In my professional experience also I have worked with international companies like WISEKEY from Swiss and ANF from Spain both specialized on security and trust on the net.

As a teacher I teach in Ecuador and also at international level (Dominican Republic and Panama) on net security with several universities and consulting companies.

Through ISOC Ecuador, we develop several projects to the development of Internet and also work in several list related to Internet Engineering Task Force and domain names.

I was also the leader of the national electronic invoice project financed by the interamerican development bank in Ecuador.

(C.3) Provide a statement about what you would contribute in your desired leadership position(s) to ICANN and its mission:

Helping with my technical knowledge to the technical issues to be considered at Icann and also with my experience working at board level both national and international and in for profit and non for profit organizations, from the tech, administrative and financial perspective to ensure the mission of Icann and the Internet governance, security and stability in a competitive and international environment.

I agree with the core values of Icann and believe in a dedicated and professional board to promote its leadership world wide.

(C.4) Is there any additional information you would like to submit that would be helpful to the Nom Com in making its decision? If so, please summarize it here:

From my perspective, Now is time for me to support from another position the work of Icann at a world level and I have the technical, professional and academic formation and experience to help, the international contacts through dozens of national engineering associations world wide and the desire to serve the international community.
