Liaisons

This page is no longer in use. Please visit the new Reporting Workspace at: At-Large Reports.

In order to help ensure that At-Large can participate effectively in all parts of the work of ICANN, liaisons are elected from within the community who participate in the work of the other "organs" of the ICANN multi-stakeholder-based process.

This section provides links to their work and activities so you can see how this group of volunteers are representing the interests of the individual Internet user.
