Glenn McKnight:Page 4 on details on the Travel item

Glenn McKnight:While organization-wide efforts are underway to develop a comprehensive ICANN outreach strategy, it is important to give individual communities some flexible support to start or continue targeted outreach efforts that support their own community recruitment strategies. A number of communities sought travel funding for various outreach and capacity building purposes in FY14. In order to provide resources in a consistent and well-managed manner, on a pilot basis ICANN is creating a Community Outreach Travel Pilot Program. As part if this program, the FY14 budget will allocate travel funding for each of the 5 At Large RALOS and the 5 GNSO Non-Contract community Constituencies. Funding will be available to each community for 5 "regional" outreach trips per year. The specific processes for how these resources are to be made available are still to be defined and established through collaboration between ICANN staff and the community. Critical components of the program will need to include specific pre-trip approval

Heidi Ullrich:@Glenn, we're sending you the NARALO brochures in EN and FR for the first event today.
