Glenn McKnight: Hi

Seth Greene 2: Hello, Glenn.

Glenn McKnight: just calling in

Garth Bruen: Happy Monday

Beau Brendler: can someone please just give me the phone number and code for dial-in. I don't have a confluence login.

Garth Bruen: 800-550-6865 x1638

Beau Brendler: the link that is posted in the e-mail and above goes to a password-protected page

Seth Greene 2: I'll let Gisella/Matt know.

avri: i think there is a general problem with pages having been closed - it is happening all over.

Heidi Ullrich: Kurt Pritz and Carole Cornell are also on the call.

Beau Brendler: thanks

Glenn McKnight: A delicate balance between privacy protection vs free speech

Eduardo Diaz: Can someone publish the link to the ALAC statement?

Eduardo Diaz: Got it from the agenda. Do not worry.

Heidi Ullrich: You're fast, Eduardo!

Joly MacFie: <https://community.icann.org/display/alacpolicydev/ALAC+Statement+on+WHOIS+Policy+Review+Team+---+Discussion+Paper>

Glenn McKnight: I don't see the icon indicating who is speaking, I see Alan holding his hand up

Evan Leibovitch: there is no icon for who's speaking

Evan Leibovitch: not everyone on the call is necessarily on adobe and vice versa

Darlene Thompson: There is only an icon for who's speaking if they are using the audio in Adobe Connect - which they aren't for this meeting

Glenn McKnight: CBC Q radio segment last week had a two experts discussing this issue . one a British Columbia Privacy Commissioner vs a Human Rights E Democracy advocate

Glenn McKnight: Darlene I don't see the icon,

Glenn McKnight: I think Garth Bruen is speaking but I don't see the icon

Evan Leibovitch: This -- WHOIS policy -- is one in which the interests of end-users IMO differs from that of registrants. Part of the problem here is that registrants and end-users have been improperly blended in the ICANN idea of who are "users"

Evan Leibovitch: Glenn, I think this is the link to the interview you mention: <http://www.cbc.ca/q/blog/2011/10/04/is-online-privacy-over-rated/>

Heidi Ullrich: Members of the Whois RT: <http://www.icann.org/en/reviews/affirmation/composition-4-en.htm>

Garth Bruen: Re: ccTLDs, many like .CA draw a line between commercial and personal domains and do not allow proxies for commercial entities.

Evan Leibovitch: ... which is IMO a Good Thing

Joly MacFie: Is Kathy Kleiman still PIR?

Evan Leibovitch: @joly: yeas

Joly MacFie: I saw they appointed an new public policy director.. and she just popped on NCUC for the first time since she went there so I wondered Garth Bruen: The rules for commercial WHOIS should be the same as business is in general. In the real world, one cannot have secret ownership of a pharmacy or bank.

Heidi Ullrich: Seth and Lutz Donnerhacke, the At-Large reps to the Whois RT, will be giving an update during the ALAC Policy Discussion - Pt 2 -

Scheduled for Tuesday, 26 October in Dakar:

Heidi Ullrich: Meeting agenda for Tuesday: <https://community.icann.org/display/atlarge/At-Large+Meetings+---+Tuesday%2C+25.10.11>

Heidi Ullrich: Sorry, 25 October...

Joly MacFie: <https://community.icann.org/display/alacpolicydev/At-Large+Workspace+for+the+ICANN+Strategic+Plan+2012-2015>

Matt Ashtiani: a copy of the presentation can be downloaded here - <http://goo.gl/7a4en>

Eduardo Diaz: Who is speaking?

Beau Brendler 3: kurt pritz

Joly MacFie: more brochure money ! :)

Evan Leibovitch: To me the ICANN Strategic Plan is a massive waste of time and energy, not just on the part of At-Large but of all of ICANN. In fact, at this critical time (i.e., US Government contracts up for renewal, changes at both CEO and Board Chair, and increasing pressure from governments to scrap the whole experiment), such an energy consuming exercise in "navel-gazing" simply calls public attention to the extent of which ICANN is out of touch with the community it is supposed to serve. I truly believe that the abandonment of this charade of creating laminated motherhood statements and diversion of energies to matters more pressing is urgently called upon.

Evan Leibovitch: I promise to sit this part out, but I guess I can't Evan Leibovitch: :-)

Darlene Thompson: Riiiiiiight - you had no intention of sitting this one out!

Evan Leibovitch: how about telling us how much money is available and let US do the prioritization?!?

Gareth Shearman: yes, I agree that we need to be more involved in the process.

Evan Leibovitch: They day that ICANN invites At-Large to participate in its regional registrar roadshow events, I'll believe that there is a genuine desire to co-ordinate outreach "company wide"

Darlene Thompson: Thank you Carole and Kurt!

Evan Leibovitch: Thanks, Glenn

Joly MacFie: A current Pew survey <http://isoc-ny.org/p2/?p=2580>

Glenn McKnight: I agree on the financial/invoicing procedures

Heidi Ullrich: 2010 ALS Survey Workspace: <https://community.icann.org/display/ALSurvey/At-Large+Structure+2010+Survey+Workspace>

Heidi Ullrich: Gareth, your line has been muted.

Olivier Crepin-Leblond: Evan -- in response to your comment about the day ICANN invites At-Large to participate in its regional roadshow events, we are also requesting this in the At-Large improvements report. Recommendation 4 (from 4.3, 4.3.1, 4.3.1.1, 4.3.2, 4.6 etc.)

Heidi Ullrich: Cheryl is also on all regional mailing lists.

Seth Greene 2: NARALO statement on .pr: <https://community.icann.org/display/NARALO/NARALO+Statement+on+the+Misappropriation+of+the+.PR+Domain>
