Section B: Qualifications & Professional Background

>> Purpose of This Section

The purpose of Section B is to help the Committee understand the skills and experience you would bring to ICANN, how you would help ICANN achieve its mission, and how you meet the criteria for the leadership position the BCEC will fill. Please refer to the At-Large Board Member Candidate Requirements - 2017 page for a description of the criteria. The BCEC needs to understand why you are the right person for the position to which you are applying. Please be bold in telling the Committee about yourself and your ideas.

1) Please describe any current and past volunteer positions, roles, and accomplishments. The Committee is particularly interested in Board or similar directorship experience. Please include the name and web page of such organizations, if applicable.	Much of my past volunteer experience has been Internet-related, and will be described more fully in Section C. My volunteer activities date back to the early 1970s when I started working with an IBM mainframe user group (SHARE), an activity that continued in various forms for over 20 years. I was an elected member of their Board of Directors from 1983-87. (http://share.org) Starting in the early 1980 through to my retirement in 2000, I was a prime developer of the Canadian research and education network and participated in its management board. (http://www.risq.quebec, http://www.canarie.ca) From 1995 to 2001 I worked with and later managed the Internet Society's Developing Country Network Training Workshops. These workshops were instrumental in facilitating the Internet connection of nearly all developing countries. (See C for additional details.) I was an elected member of the Internet Society Board of Trustees for 2001-2004. (http://www.internetsociety.org) I am vice-president and a member of the executive committee of a local genealogy society. Although I occasionally work as a professional genealogist, I donate much time to helping other researchers, work that I could often otherwise do for a fee. Within ICANN, I have been a member of the ALAC for 8 of the last 10 years and was ALAC's Liaison to the GNSO for 2006-2014. I have been extremely active in both roles. I have been very active on At-Large WG activities. I have represented the ALAC and At-Large on numerous GNSO working groups, COWGs and an AoC Review, and I chaired the GNSO PDP Working Group on Post-Expiration Domain Name Recovery. Further details will be provided in later answers.
2a) Have you held or do you currently hold a Board or executive management position in any organization?	Yes
2b) If "Yes," please state the nature and size of the organization(s) in which you currently hold or have held a Board or executive management position.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Internet Society: I was an elected member of the ISOC Board of Directors from 2001 until 2004.</li><li>• CA*net- Canada's Education and Research network and first national Internet service: I was a founding member of the CA*net management board (and its lead up organizational committees) from the late 1980s until it was replaced by its next-generation successor, CANARIE (Canadian Advanced Network for Research, Industry and Education) in the 1990s.</li><li>• RISQ- Quebec's Education and Research network: I was the founding Chair of its management group and was a member until I left McGill at the end of 1999. RISQ pioneered the Internet in Quebec.</li><li>• McGill Systems Inc (MSI) - Wholly owned, for-profit software development and marketing subsidiary of McGill University: I was Vice President and member of the board as well as oversaw all operations. Over its lifetime, MSI brought many millions of dollars into the university, allowing it to expand its technical infrastructure and services far beyond those allowed by the formal university budgets.</li><li>• NetNorth: I was a member and later led the management committee of NetNorth, the Canadian equivalent of the US BITNET and European EARN from the mid-1980s until it was phased out in the late 1990.</li><li>• SHARE Inc- Independent organization of users of IBM hardware and software: I served as an elected member of the Share Board of Directors from 1983-1987. (www.share.org)</li></ul> While at McGill, I was the executive in charge of all central technology (networks, computers, voice telephony, etc.) with a staff of about 120 and budget in the order of $20M.
3a) Do you have experience working with non-profit organizations?	Yes
3b) If "Yes," please state the nature and size of any non-profit organization(s) including any Board positions or executive committees upon which you currently serve or have served.	In addition to 10 years involvement with ICANN, I have extensive experience with non-profit (largely volunteer) dating back 30 years. They range from McGill University (40,000 students) to the Internet Society to an IBM user group (about 5,000 institutional members) and national and regional networks. I sat on the board of the IBM user group, ISOC and several smaller organizations. See also the answer to 2b, as all but one were non-profit.
4) Briefly describe any experience you have had working with groups in various locations and time zones around the globe.	I have been an ICANN volunteer in just that environment for over 10 years and most of my consulting engagements since my retirement from McGill have been for organizations in Europe and with site locations in Africa or Asia Pacific. My volunteer activities with ISOC training workshops required very significant infrastructure to be built with the help of local volunteers I have participated in or managed workshops in Kenya, Tanzania, Sri Lanka, Malaysia, Canada, US, Switzerland, Japan and Sweden. I have also worked in Nicaragua, Rwanda, Mozambique, Uganda and Germany.
5) Being able to read and to express yourself publicly in English is mandatory for leadership positions at ICANN. Do you meet this criterion?	Yes
6) Which other languages do you speak and at what level of fluency?  >> Instructions  Use the "+ Add Row" to add additional rows to the table; the "x" can be used to delete rows added by mistake.	<table><thead><tr><th>Language</th><th>Level of Fluency</th><th>Number of Years</th></tr></thead><tbody><tr><td></td><td></td><td></td></tr></tbody></table>	Language	Level of Fluency	Number of Years

Section C: Internet & ICANN Involvement

1) Describe your current and past involvement in, contributions to, and leadership roles in activities and organizations involved in the development and operation of the Internet, its naming and addressing infrastructure, and /or its security and stability. &gt;&gt; Explanation Please describe any involvement with the operation of ccTLD, gTLD registries or registrars, IP address registries, or relevant DNS technical or policy development process, including Internet technical protocols and standards. Your answer should include details of any involvement with ICANN's policy development processes, including its creation and evolution; Supporting Organizations; Councils; and/or Advisory Committees.	I was part of the group that started NetNorth, the first Canadian national research and education network in the early 1980s. My department at McGill ran the eastern Canada hub of that network. I was a charter member of the CA*net Board, the organization that brought IP-based networking to Canada. I was a charter member of CANARIE, the organization that (among other things) functionally replaced CA*net a few years later. Following the replacement of CA*net, I sat on the board of the not-for-profit Foundation chartered with awarding the remaining CA*net funds (plus matching funds raised commercially) to innovative network-related development projects. In Quebec, I was one of the prime instigators and the founding Chair of the Quebec regional network RISQ (currently Réseau d'informations scientifiques du Québec, although like many long-lived acronyms, its meaning has varied over the years). For the first years, at my initiative, McGill physically ran RISQ. I remained active in RISQ management until my retirement from McGill. In 2009, I was given an award for my pioneering service 20 years earlier. In 1995 I started working with the Internet Society's (ISOC) Developing Country Network Training Workshops, an activity which markedly changed my life and my world-view. Over their nine year lifetime (1993-2001) these network training workshops taught over 1,000 students from 140 developing countries how to build, support, manage and use the first networking and Internet facilities in their countries. In 1996 I was responsible for the local arrangements of workshop held in Montreal in conjunction with the ISOC's INET meeting and a concurrent IETF meeting. I co-managed the 1997 workshop in Malaysia, and managed the next workshops from 1998 to 2001 in Switzerland, USA, Japan and Sweden. Unlike some volunteer activities, managing the workshops required a massive time commitment. To a large extent, every country that connected to the Internet after 1993 did so with the help of people trained at these or spin-off workshops (Eastern Europe, Francophone, Latin-American and African). I view this part of my history with great pride, as I played a key role in helping to spread the Internet to virtually all developing countries in a professional and timely manner. Many of the workshop's former students are active in ICANN and credit the workshops as being instrumental in their success (among them Nii Quaynor, Tarek Kamel and Yaovi Atohoum). From 2001 to 2004, I was an elected member of the Internet Society Board of Trustees and started the formal initiative for ISOC to bid on the .org TLD (resulting in the Public Interest registry - PIR) I have worked with ICANN for over ten years, both in At-Large and the GNSO. In those positions, I have made substantial and significant contributions. As an ALAC member, I led the efforts to have the GNSO eliminate domain tasting and provide a modicum of safety for registrants with expiring domain names. I believe that these and other activities have been one of the key reasons that At-Large is now regarding with a level of credibility, a situation that was not true when I first joined. I have been a key participant in numerous crucial GSNO activities. Within the ALAC, I have played a strong leadership role, regardless of whether I have held a formal leadership position or not. Currently I serve as the ALAC Chair. I played an active role throughout the last ALAC review. I was the only individual to comment exhaustively of the various interim reports, and I believe that I was instrumental in convincing the review team of several important points. I am part of the Working Party of the current At-Large Review. I was a member of the second ATRT AoC review in 2013 where I acted as a vice-chair, was lead reviewer of the Whois AoC review and led the effort making recommendations on engaging stakeholders (and particularly non-industry-funded stakeholders) in ICANN policy processes. More recently, I played key roles in the IANA Stewardship Transition and ICANN Accountability efforts.
2) Conflicts of Interest &gt;&gt; Instructions Please indicate clearly if you have any areas of actual or potential conflicts with ICANN. Please refer to the ICANN Conflicts of Interest Policy which specifically addresses conflicts for ICANN Directors, Officers and key employees. If you have had any relationship with an ICANN accredited registry or registrar (other than registering a domain name) or any organization that has been in dispute with ICANN, please describe that relationship here. Conflicts of interest are not necessarily disqualifying, since we anticipate that many experienced people may have such relationships. The At-Large Community selected Board Member should be independent from ICANN Stakeholders whose financial situation is significantly affected by ICANN decisions.	No actual or potential conflicts.
3) Please explain any positions you hold as Director, major shareholder, or employee of a Generic Top Level Domain (gTLD) Registrar or Registry, Country Code Top Level Domain (ccTLD) Registry or a Regional Internet Registry (RIR).	None.

Section D: Application for At-Large Board Member Position

1) Please state your opinion about what would be your unique expertise or perspective and what added value you might contribute to the ICANN Board:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Having served for eight of the past ten years on the ALAC, and eight years on the GNSO, I have a very strong understanding of both groups, something that no one else on the Board possesses. With the departure of Bruce Tonkin who was term limited, I would likely be the only person on next-year's Board with real gTLD policy involvement. And having that knowledge nuanced by a user perspective.</li> <li>• Most Board members have little or no real operational knowledge of ICANN, or if they do, it is from many years ago and typically only from a Chair's perspective. I have served at all levels in the organization in recent years and bring a perspective of how ICANN operates from a grass-roots level.</li> <li>• I am a quick study, and have the proven ability to enter unfamiliar situations, assimilate what is needed to understand the issues, and make cohesive, logical recommendations and decisions. Moreover, I can do this taking into account the impact on the various groups and stakeholders.</li> <li>• I have no financial involvement in the world that ICANN oversees, and no plans to enter into such involvement. My goal is to work on behalf of ICANN, the public interest, and the interests of end-users of the Internet.</li> <li>• I am semi-retired and can devote the time necessary to meet the demands placed on an ICANN Director. Moreover, my past ICANN experience demonstrates that I am willing to make such time commitments.</li> <li>• I have senior management and board experience as well as operational experience and understand how they relate and how they differ.</li> <li>• Lastly, I have a passion for ICANN and care deeply about it.</li> </ul> For a different perspective on what might serve ICANN well, the Boston Consulting Group, in its review of the ICANN Board, noted the following.  The most important personal qualities are, in our view: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The intellectual capacity to understand a business in which the director has not actually worked. If the director cannot do this, he or she will be limited to reciting the experiences that they have had in another job.</li> <li>• The ability to deal with issues at the appropriate level- to see the 'big picture' issues and get enmeshed in the detail only to the extent necessary.</li> <li>• The director's ability to work as part of a team -to listen well, to draw the best out of other people rather than turn them off.</li> <li>• Insight and judgement -does the person understand where the 'value' is? Can they cut through to the essence of the issue?</li> </ul>  I believe I eminently satisfy all these requirements
2) Please describe how and why you meet the criteria for this position: &gt;&gt; Instructions See At-Large Board Member Candidate Requirements - 2017 document for eligibility criteria and other selection factors. Describe how your work and other experience helps you meet the criteria for the position you are applying for. You may wish to describe how your previous experience is relevant to your candidacy.	I meet all five of the Bylaw criteria (integrity, objectivity, and intelligence; understanding of ICANN's mission and the potential impact of ICANN decisions; diversity; Internet familiarity; English). Even on diversity, where being a white, North American, male is clearly a liability, I have worked with different cultures and in diverse geographic regions for decades. Commitment to ICANN's mission. I have been actively involved in inter-networking activities for 3 decades. I have been active in ICANN since 2006 and I have a deep understanding of ICANN's background and activities. I participated in both WSIS-1 and WSIS-2. From 2006-2010 I was a member of both ALAC and the GNSO and have continued as the ALAC Liaison to the GNSO after I left the ALAC (later to return). In the GNSO, I was active in the new gTLD discussions and I initiated the ALAC request for an Issue Report on Domain Tasting and followed it through in the GNSO, resulting in the PDP which effectively eliminated Domain Tasting. I played a similar role protecting registrant rights in the Post-Expiration Domain Name Recovery PDP, a GNSO WG which I chaired (thus ensuring that Internet resources that users depend on do not just "disappear"). I have played an active role in numerous other GNSO policy as well as the IANA Stewardship Transition and ICANN Accountability efforts. All of these endeavours illustrate my commitment to ICANN and its mission, and a clear understanding of the potential impact on the global Internet community of the decisions that ICANN takes (or doesn't take). My commitment to ICANN and its success can be measured by my simultaneously taking on multiple roles and delivering results (ALAC, GNSO and ATRT; ALAC Chair, IANA Stewardship, Accountability) Demonstrated capacity for thoughtful group decision-making and sound judgment I have a proven success record for innovative planning and successfully implementing those plans. Collegial decision-making is a mandatory pre-requisite for longevity in a large research university. Under my direction, McGill went from its pre-network days to become an Internet leader. In my more recent role as consultant to donors and developing countries on the use of technology, my recommendations have little value if I cannot successfully get buy-in from the parties involved. I am a good listener, and have no problem changing my position when the arguments of others demonstrate that need. An understanding of the importance of good governance practices and an ability to contribute to the Board in this regard I spent a very significant part of 2013 serving on the 2nd Accountability and Transparency Review Team (ATRT2) and in the CCWG Accountability over the last two years. The Board is and will continue to be presented with thorny issues that often have no clear and simple resolution. Understanding this, I think, is the first and perhaps most important step in being able to address them. As mentioned above, I have a track record of thoughtfully and successfully addressing difficult problems, and I have no doubt that this would serve me well on the ICANN Board.
3) Please state what you would contribute in the At-Large selected ICANN Board Member Position to the At-Large Community	I believe that communications is key. As ALAC Chair, I have pushed for the Board Member selected by At-Large to regularly participate in ALAC and At-Large discussions, and not just at ceremonial events as had been the case in the past. I believe it is critical for the Director to maintain strong ties to At-Large, to ask for input and advice, and to keep At-Large informed as to what issues are before the Board. The Director is explicitly NOT on the Board to represent At-Large, but it is crucial that the Director is aware of the issues and positions within At-Large. It is only through such clear communications that the Director can help advance issues may be important to At-Large. I believe my long service to At-Large has demonstrated my abilities and determination to ensure that end-users are considered in all ICANN decisions.
4) Please describe specifically how and why you will be able to advance, at the ICANN Board, the interests of the At-Large Community and the broader global community of Internet end-users.	Much of this has already been addressed in earlier questions. I have vast experience in the ALAC, At-Large and on critical policy and operational issues of import to ICANN. gTLD policy and ICANN Compliance are two of my strengths. I am on good terms with a number of Board members and I believe I am in a very strong position to influence Board discussions and decisions.

5) Time Commitment: &gt;&gt; Explanation The basic responsibilities of an ICANN Director require a minimum commitment of time which when averaged out over the year is roughly equivalent to 20-24 hours each week. This includes participation in three ICANN meetings/year, two Board retreats/year and work on Board Committees. The time spent in these basic responsibilities is typically clustered around Board meetings and monthly teleconferences, but there is a constant flow of information requiring attention on a near daily basis. Directors are expected to attend three ICANN meetings per year and depending on the location and including travel time and preparation this could be a commitment of about ten (10) days per meeting. In addition the board occasionally holds shorter face-to-face meetings such as retreats. Directors spend additional time in connection with their work on Board Committees, a commitment that varies in relation to the number of Committees on which they serve, the scope of the Committee's responsibilities, and their role as Chair or Member of the Committee. Are you able to commit this amount of time for this position?	Yes
6) Please describe your understanding of changes to ICANN's Bylaws, organizational structure, and accountability mechanisms that have been put in place as part of the transition of the stewardship of IANA functions. Please also describe any personal involvement you have had in these changes.	I was a member of the CCWG Accountability and drafted all of the ALAC Statements on various versions of the proposals. I believe that I was the first person to mention the concept of a "single designator", the basis for the final accountability mechanisms. I, along with many in At-Large were very opposed to some of the proposals made prior to the final ones and I was one of those that helped craft the final compromises. I am also very involved with the Work Stream 2 activities.

Please refer to the At-Large Board Member Candidate Requirements - 2017 page for a description of the criteria. The BCEC needs to understand why you are the right person for the position to which you are applying. Please be bold in telling the Committee about yourself and your ideas.

I have also contributed with comments and suggestions to several ALAC statements which have been drafted by other fellow ALAC members. I have been active in several working groups inside the At-Large community as well as other working groups with the larger ICANN community. I am currently serving as the At-Large (ALAC) appointed Co-Chair of the Cross Community Working Group on Enhancing ICANN Accountability (CCWG) in which we were, after facing a large number of challenges, able to finalize a series of recommendations to enhance ICANN's accountability to the larger internet community, making it possible for the ICANN Board of Directors to forward the proposal to transition the IANA Stewardship from the U.S. government to the global internet community. As part of our work in the CCWG, we will now look into the implementation of the WS1 recommendations and carry out the second phase of our work to develop stronger frameworks on human rights, diversity, AC/SO accountability, transparency, jurisdiction and the role of the Ombudsman. I am a member of the Board in ISOC Mexico Chapter and have contributed to continue its mission in the Mexican landscape by being in charge of the Corporate Governance reform that will allow ISOC Mexico to have a successful transition to a new leadership after 15 years. I am member of the Board to Trustnet de México, S.A. de C.V. which is a company dedicated to provide integrated solutions for customers in the IT sector at both private and public business. For example, the CCWG will hold a weekly meeting that will rotate schedule in order to accommodate calls at 6:00, 12:00 and 19:00 UTC so the different regions have an evenly distributed burden in those hours that might be too early or too late to attend calls. Furthermore, I have attended different meetings, ICANN and not ICANN related, that take place in different regions. ## Section C: Internet & ICANN Involvement

1) Describe your current and past involvement in, contributions to, and leadership roles in activities and organizations involved in the development and operation of the Internet, its naming and addressing infrastructure, and/or its security and stability. &gt;&gt; Explanation Please describe any involvement with the operation of ccTLD, gTLD registries or registrars, IP address registries, or relevant DNS technical or policy development process, including Internet technical protocols and standards. Your answer should include details of any involvement with ICANN's policy development processes, including its creation and evolution; Supporting Organizations; Councils; and/or Advisory Committees.	I began getting involved with ICANN in the Mexico City's meeting back in 2009. That was my first meeting. After that I applied to the Fellowship program and in 2012 I got selected for the first time. My first involvement was with the IPC as being an IP attorney seemed to be naturally in line with the spirit of the IPC. I then realized that while I shared some point with the IPC I really was more into users' role in ICANN. Therefore, I began participating in the At-Large community meetings. I then applied to the NomCom process in 2013 in order to be considered for the open position in the ALAC for Latin America and the Caribbean. I can happily say that I was successfully appointed by the NomCom to perform in the ALAC for the LAC region for the term beginning at the end of ICANN's GA in 2013 and ending by the end of GA in 2015. While performing my duties as an ALAC member I have held the pen on drafting various ALAC statements and have also been an active member in various Committees and Subcommittees which include the Cross Community Working Group on Internet Governance, the Social Media Working Group, the ALAC Executive Committee, the At-Large Subcommittee on Finance and Budget, the CROPP and most recently the CWG on the IANA Stewardship Transition and the CCWG on enhancing ICANN accountability. I have had the honor of co-chairing the CCWG on enhancing ICANN accountability along with Thomas Rieckert and Mathieu Weill. I am also the appointed ALAC member for the LAC region in the CCWG and Chair of the Legal Sub-team of the CCWG. I was also part of the ICANN community representatives that attended NETmundial on behalf of the ICANN community. I have had the opportunity to learn and grow from and within ICANN's community. I have a commitment to continue to learn and give back to the community that has given me so many valuable experiences and knowledge and therefore I would like to continue serving the community.
2) Conflicts of Interest &gt;&gt; Instructions Please indicate clearly if you have any areas of actual or potential conflicts with ICANN. Please refer to the ICANN Conflicts of Interest Policy which specifically addresses conflicts for ICANN Directors, Officers and key employees. If you have had any relationship with an ICANN accredited registry or registrar (other than registering a domain name) or any organization that has been in dispute with ICANN, please describe that relationship here. Conflicts of interest are not necessarily disqualifying, since we anticipate that many experienced people may have such relationships. The At-Large Community selected Board Member should be independent from ICANN Stakeholders whose financial situation is significantly affected by ICANN decisions.	To my knowledge I do not have any actual or potential conflicts of interest. I have, however, provided legal advice in the field of privacy policy to the .bar and .rest registry. That business relationship is no longer undergoing and none of the advice provided had to do with DNS policy but rather with local privacy and personal data law.
3) Please explain any positions you hold as Director, major shareholder, or employee of a Generic Top Level Domain (gTLD) Registrar or Registry, Country Code Top Level Domain (ccTLD) Registry or a Regional Internet Registry (RIR).	I hereby declare that I do not hold any positions as Director, major shareholder, or employee of a Generic Top Level Domain (gTLD) Registrar or Registry, Country Code Top Level Domain (ccTLD) Registry or a Regional Internet Registry (RIR).

Section D: Application for At-Large Board Member Position

1) Please state your opinion about what would be your unique expertise or perspective and what added value you might contribute to the ICANN Board:	I believe I can bring a fresh view to the Board by providing inputs that while reflecting the regional diversity needed, will also encompass a global vision on how regional needs might fit into a global landscape. I can add value to the work done by the Board by bringing new views, skills and expertise from a community member that has been involved long enough to be knowledgeable of ICANN but short enough to haven't been involved into engagements that could compromise my performance as a Board member. In other words, I could add value by collaborating with the rest of the Board members in an un-conflicted fashion. I can also add value to the Board's work by sharing my knowledge on legal and governance issues as well as my contacts with different regional and global high-level stakeholders for the benefit of ICANN and the accomplishment of its mission. I can add value by contributing with independent and creative thinking that can provide out of the box solutions to the challenges of an organization like ICANN. I can contribute to the Board's work by bringing my negotiating and listening skills on board in order to help achieve consensus and build bridges between the Board and the different stakeholders. I can add value to the Board by bringing in fresh thoughts and experience to the decision making process of the Board for the benefit of the global internet community. I can add value to the Board with the expertise acquired through my role as CCWG-Accountability Co-Chair and help in this coming implementation phase that will be as important as the previous phase.

3) Please state what you would contribute in the At-Large selected ICANN Board Member Position to the At-Large Community	I will contribute with sound judgement, experience and deep knowledge of ICANN's new structure. I will contribute with deep knowledge and understanding of the users problems and challenges in regard to the policy involving the domain name space. I will contribute to help the Board better understand the challenges that end users face in the different regions, understanding that a single issue may have multiple approaches and solutions.
4) Please describe specifically how and why you will be able to advance, at the ICANN Board, the interests of the At-Large Community and the broader global community of Internet end-users.	I will be able to advance the interests of internet users in the ICANN Board by establishing a continuous channel of communication with the At-Large community that will allow me to better understand how the different issues being discussed in the Board may affect and to what extent, the interests of end users across regions. I will advocate for end users' interests in the discussions held by the Board and strive to assure that the Board understands and takes into account the impact its decisions may have on end users worldwide. I will provide the Board with a balanced and objective view of end users in relation to the different issues being discussed and the possible impact any decision may have on end users

5) Time Commitment:  >> Explanation  The basic responsibilities of an ICANN Director require a minimum commitment of time which when averaged out over the year is roughly equivalent to 20-24 hours each week. This includes participation in three ICANN meetings/year, two Board retreats/year and work on Board Committees. The time spent in these basic responsibilities is typically clustered around Board meetings and monthly teleconferences, but there is a constant flow of information requiring attention on a near daily basis.  Directors are expected to attend three ICANN meetings per year and depending on the location and including travel time and preparation this could be a commitment of about ten (10) days per meeting. In addition the board occasionally holds shorter face-to-face meetings such as retreats.  Directors spend additional time in connection with their work on Board Committees, a commitment that varies in relation to the number of Committees on which they serve, the scope of the Committee's responsibilities, and their role as Chair or Member of the Committee.  Are you able to commit this amount of time for this position?	Yes
6) Please describe your understanding of changes to ICANN's Bylaws, organizational structure, and accountability mechanisms that have been put in place as part of the transition of the stewardship of IANA functions. Please also describe any personal involvement you have had in these changes.	My understanding of the new ICANN structure is that the post transition ICANN is very similar and at the same time very different to the original ICANN. It is the same in that the way we work on policy will not change under the new structure but it is also very different in that now we have two new bodies that are key to ICANN's activities. The first body is the empowered community which will be key in exercising the new powers that intend to be the checks and balances to the Board's activities. The second body is the PTI which will continue to perform the IANA functions and that will need to comply with the SLAs agreed with its clients in order to continue to perform said functions. My understanding is deep as I have the benefit of having co-chaired the CCWG on accountability and that has provided me with vast experience on the field. =====
