Minor SOI Adjustments: 4 Oct 2013

A major Confluence upgrade was performed last night (3 Oct 2013) by ICANN Information Technology Staff. As a result, a few minor changes were needed:

1. We were able to add a feature to the underlying template that now eliminates confusion between the <Edit Contents> vs. <Edit> command.
2. There were a few cosmetic issues concerning certain fields not being bolded during the conversion.

From now on, when you go to change your SOI page, simply click the <Edit Contents> button in the menu bar which should be the only one appearing.

If you need to change the image/picture, please see the amended instructions on the New SOIs page.
