ICANNICANN64

Dear friends and colleagues,

I would like to thank you for making the ICANN64 meeting in Kobe a big success!

Over 1700 participants checked in to the ICANN64 meeting. 648 are from Asia, with 319 from Japan. I received very good feedback about the meeting overall, which facilitated a positive environment for important discussions.

I am grateful for the collaborative effort and coordination in the lead-up and during the Meeting. From my office, we began coordinating with the Local Host Committee Secretariat from October 2018 - half a year in advance! In collaboration with you, our first outreach activities to promote the ICANN64 meeting also began in October, picking up momentum closer towards the Kobe meeting.

In my opening speech at the Welcome Ceremony on 11 March, I had highlighted Japan's support for the multistakeholder model. It is this collaborative spirit - throughout this time - that led to the successful ICANN64 meeting.

The ICANN meeting gave us an opportunity to further deepen our engagement with different stakeholder groups in Japan. In particular, the ICANN Business as well as ISP Constituencies express their thanks, for the opportunity to meet and dialogue with their Japanese counterparts. Through dialogue, the broader ICANN community is also very impressed by our Japanese community members' knowledge and expertise in technical, policy, as well as DNS-industry related discussions. A number of younger Japanese community members also left deep impressions in the minds of our ICANN community leaders, and we look forward to their deeper participation in ICANN in future.

Let us keep the momentum going, and we hope to continue working closely with you. Thank you for your support to me and my team, particularly our Liaison Yumi Ohashi.

I look forward to hearing your takeaways and feedback at the upcoming ICANN64 readout in April.

Thank you.

Jia-Rong Low

Vice President, Global Stakeholder Engagement, Asia

Managing Director, Asia Pacific

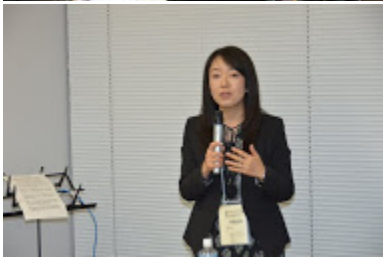
Japan Internet Week 2014 and 41st ICANN Readout Session, Tokyo



(Images courtesy of JPNIC)

It is always heartening to see the efforts of community-organized ICANN Readout sessions by JPNIC and Internet Association Japan (IAjapan), held consistently after each ICANN meeting to the Japanese community in their local language. The 41st edition was held in conjunction with the Japan Internet Week in Tokyo in November, and provided a two-hour recap of the ICANN 51 meeting in Los Angeles to 70 attendees. The topics covered ranged from Government Advisory Committee proceedings, new generic top-level domain discussions, to Country-Code Names Supporting Organization and Root Server System Advisory Committee reports, and ended with a panel discussion on ICANN's future and way forward.

Together with Japan Liaison Yumi Ohashi, we updated the community about APAC activities in Asia and Japan as well as discussed ways to reach out to the wider community. We also appreciated the opportunity to exchange views on how we can work better with one another, be it over such sessions, through survey queries or during the social events. Indeed, the ICANN Readout session has become an important channel both for ICANN APAC Hub to listen to the concerns of the community, and for the community to hear directly from ICANN.
